Heinous Attempt to Kill Caddy Fails

coast of Vancouver Island. It is not a particularly rare animal, and bears no resemblance to Victoria's Caddy.

Here is the one and only Cadborosaurus, in an artist's conception based upon descriptions of eye-witnesses who have observed him.

CADDY LIKES OUR WARM WATERS

Experts Squash Vancouver Claim Elephant Seal Famed Sea Serpent

By HUMPHRY DAVY
Efforts of jealous Vancouverites to kill Victoria's "Cadborosaurus" have failed once again. A sea animal slain on the West Coast has been positively identified as an elephant seal—an announcement by a Vancouver paper that the dead animal was "Caddy."

The paper's headline said: "Caddy's Death Staggers Victoria." A front page story quoted Dr. Neel M. Carter, head of the Pacific Fisheries Experimental Station at Vancouver as stating that sea animal "could well be none other than world-famous Cadborosaurus."

The reports of the death of a sea animal far from "staggered" Victorians who are much better acquainted with the habits and appearance of their "beloved and elusive sea serpent" than Vancouverites who have never seen anything larger than a small seal.

Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum, described the one-ton, 14-foot sea animal, killed by Simon Peter, a fisherman, as nothing more than an elephant seal which are seen from time to time along the west coast of the island.

Charlie Guiguet, biologist, is now cutting up the mammal on a beach near Ucluelet and will ship the bones and skull to Victoria tonight, he said.

Dr. Carl, an authority on west coast fish and mammals, scoffed at the idea that the big mammal was Caddy.

"The mammal may seem strange to Vancouverites but not to the people of Vancouver Island who know the difference between a large sea serpent and an elephant seal," he said.

He said the sea elephant was completely different in appearance to Caddy.

"Besides," said Dr. Carl, "it is very unlikely that a sea elephant would wander in waters surrounding the east coast of Vancouver Island."

Dr. Carl said if Vancouverites wanted to see what the skull of an elephant seal looked like they could look at one on display at the University of British Columbia.

"They will observe that its head is vastly different from a sea serpent's," he said.

George E. Warren, head of Victoria's Tourist Bureau, also denied that the sea elephant was Caddy.

"It's not the same species at all," he said. "Caddy basks in warm, sunny waters like we have around Victoria. He wouldn't be found dead at Ucluelet."

It was also pointed out that only a week ago today Caddy was seen splashing about Cadboro Bay, where he was first seen years ago. The monster was watched then by three persons, a man and two women, who just missed taking a photograph of him.

This indicates Caddy is still in local waters.

CHEST DRIVE CANVASSERS COVER CITY

Complete Job
Late Tonight

Hundreds of needy Victorians are waiting anxiously for the results that 2,000 of their neighbors will turn in tonight at the end of the Community Chest drive.

This morning, canvassers started out on their rounds of the business and residential areas of Greater Victoria. Tonight, the canvassing tempo will increase as more volunteers set out with their kits.

First results of the drive will be known late tonight when canvassers start turning in donations at the Community Chest headquarters in Spencerhouse.

COMPLETE CANVAS

Every home in Greater Victoria will receive a call before the special spring drive for funds is completed.

Here's what Victoria's Mayor Claude L. Harrison has to say about the campaign:

"Today is the day that we unite to meet an emergency which has not yet arrived but which, if it is not met, will fall upon our community of Greater Victoria as surely as we can expect tomorrow's sunrise."

He pointed out that the 16 community services of the Chest are asking for assurance that they can carry out all their humanitarian work for the rest of 1952. "If this is not assured, some of these services will be severely crippled," he said.

"I make a personal appeal to you to put over this drive, and supply the funds which we were short of last year."

BRED IN CANADA?

Dr. Endicott Backs Reds' Germ Charge

LONDON, April 15 (CP)—Moscow radio today quoted Dr. James Endicott, chairman of the United Nations Committee on the "confirming" that United Nations forces are waging bacteriological warfare on Communist China.

The broadcast, monitored here, said Endicott also speculated on the possibility that some of the "infected insects" allegedly dropped in northeast China were bred in Canada.

The Moscow radio said Endicott spoke to a press conference at Munkin and quoted him as saying Canada has organizations producing bacteriological weapons for the U.S., including a "huge plant" in Alberta.

Endicott accused a Canadian official named "Soland" of saying in a newspaper article that the prospects for mass deaths were "extremely heartening," the radio said. This presumably was a reference to Dr. O. M. Soland, head of Canada's defense research board.

Communist charges of bacteriological warfare have been denied by the United Nations command. One Allied theory is the charges furnish useful internal propaganda in a Red China striving to close the gap between its claims and the health and safety really happening in a land often swept by epidemics.

Trend Sought In New Jersey Primary Today

NEWARK, N.J., April 15 (CP)—Between 750,000 and 1,000,000 were expected to turn out today in New Jersey to choose state delegates to national political conventions and possibly shed some light on the future of presidential aspirants.

The Republican primary was in the spotlight because of a three-day contest among Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Ohio's Senator Robert Taft and former Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota.

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee is the only name on the Democratic ballot.

Flood Toll Mounts; Truman Calls Parley

TRIO STEALS $70,000 FROM PARIS ARMORED CAR

PARIS, April 15 (Reuters)—Three armed men stole 100 pounds of gold valued at $70,000 in a crowded Paris street today.

The bandits, driving a stolen truck, forced an armored car onto the sidewalk. Covering the crew with a tommy-gun and revolvers, they grabbed five sacks of gold bars.

The trio evidently knew the routine of delivering the gold from a bank to an exchange broker in the Paris financial quarter.

WUZ WE ROBBED?

Disputed Shot Hockey Topic

By DENNY BOYD
Times Sports Writer

Was it or wasn't it? Did it or didn't it?

Those are the questions that are being bandied today from the tieliest coffee counter up to hallowed dining rooms of the more exclusive clubs. In the most dignified parliamentary offices and in the grease pit of any garage, everyone wants to know: did Ernie Roche score or didn't he?

Officially, he did not score and the Cougars lost the second game of their best-of-seven P.C.H.L. finals to the Saskatoon Quakers, 3-1. The third game of the series, and the last for Victoria ice, will be played in the Memorial Arena Wednesday.

Roche took a swipe at a loose puck in the second period and the puck bounced behind Quaker goalie Lorne Worsley, only to re-appear on the ice instantly.

Referee Eddie Powers ruled no goal. Goal-judge Doug Bray flashed the red light, indicating that he saw it as a bona fide tally. Powers' negative vote won.

By the end of the week it is likely that 5,000 people will lay claim to the fact that they were sitting at the Saskatoon end when the goal was or was not scored. There are 100-and-one diverse opinions on it.

Roche says, "I don't know." Worsley says, "I don't know; I lost sight of the puck." Bray says, "It was in."

The fans say, "We wuz robbed." What do you say? (See story of the game, Page 8.)

Three Perish

RIMOUSKI, Que., April 15 (CP)—Three children were killed at the village of St. Thomas de Cherbourg when a gas lamp exploded and set fire to their home, it was learned today.

The accident, which occurred last Thursday, killed Pauline, 7; Jacqueline, 6; and Jacques, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Lehoureau. Three other children and the mother escaped.

The father was at church at the time.

St. Lawrence Waterway May Start Soon

OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).

Federal authorities today looked for prompt action towards a start on the St. Lawrence waterway project, now that President Truman has decided to by-pass Congressional blocks that have stalled the undertaking for many years.

The president's agreement Monday to join Canada in a submission to the International Joint Commission was described by one top seaway official as "a big step in the right direction."

He added it has cleared away a major obstacle in the way of the undertaking that would open the Great Lakes to ocean shipping and produce 2,000,000 horsepower of hydro-electric power on the St. Lawrence River.

President Truman's decision, announced at Washington Monday, was interpreted here as meaning he has given up on waiting for Congress to ratify a 1941 U.S.-Canada treaty on the seaway and is prepared to back the all-Canadian construction of navigation works along with a joint U.S.-Canada power development.

However, Congress at any time before the start of construction could go in on a joint plan for building the ship canal, which would enable the U.S. to share control of the navigation works.

Flying to Omaha to Meet Seven Governors

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—President Truman today asked seven midwestern governors to meet with him at Omaha Wednesday to discuss measures for dealing with the flood emergency.

The White House announced Truman will leave Washington by plane Wednesday for a flight over the flood area. The plan is to land at Omaha for the conference with the governors.

Truman invited the governors of Illinois, South Dakota, North Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Minnesota to meet him.

Meanwhile, more than 76,000 persons were homeless today as the marauding Missouri and Mississippi rivers continued to spread their sea of misery through eight states.

The Red Cross estimated that 18,939 families have fled their homes in the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Kansas and Missouri. What the chief of army engineers described as the "greatest flood the white man has ever seen in the Missouri river" was responsible for most of the flight of the homeless.

ALREADY HOMELESS

The Red Cross said 17,809 families are already homeless in the Missouri River valley. And when the river rolls through Omaha and Council Bluffs this figure will rise to 20,000-making the Missouri flood one of the 10 greatest in 71 years of Red Cross relief operations in the United States.

There was no help from the weather. Showers were forecast for eastern Nebraska and western Iowa tonight and Wednesday morning.

U.S. army engineers estimate that 1,250,000 acres of land are under waters of the Missouri and its tributaries.

While millions of tons of rich topsoil sloshed down river, men and machines at the twin cities of Omaha and Council Bluffs—combined population 366,000—toiled to build up the flood walls and dikes.

The flood wall, when originally built, was 26.6 feet high and con-sidered able to meet any challenge from the Missouri. Now it is being built up in hopes of fighting off a predicted crest of 31.6 feet Thursday. The crest would be 12.5 feet over flood stage and seven feet over the previous recorded high of 24.6 in 1881.

The river stood at 26.7 feet here early today. But there was still hope. Maj.-Gen. Lewis Pick, chief of army engineers, said he believed there was a chance of winning.

In Council Bluffs, 30,000 people—two-thirds of the population—have left the low-lying districts in the north and western areas. Across the river in Omaha another 5,000 have been moved from the lowland north and east sections.

The Missouri's relentless approach has made temporary ghost communities of town after town. Sioux City, Ia., with 84,035 people, is the biggest community thus far hit by the muddy waters.

NEW TUNGSTEN DISCOVERY HAILED HERE

City Firm Will Build Refinery

By BURKE CAHILL
Times Business Editor

News of a new supply of a precious industrial metal found near Salmo, B.C., was welcomed by a Victoria firm today.

Tungsten, a vitally strategic metal used in hardening process for machine tools, backbone of the entire industrial production effort, is the basis of operations for Kennametal of Canada Ltd., with head office at 1850 Blanshard.

The city firm, backed by the giant Kennametal Incorporated of Pennsylvania, has been drilling for tungsten at Suan Juan Creek, Vancouver Island, and has just started building a tungsten ore refinery to cost around $200,000 at Port Coquitlam, B.C.

The firm's new refinery at Port Coquitlam had been planned for some time but it was not expected to be as large an operation since the ores would have had to be imported, officials said.

The new sources just uncovered at the Dodger Mine, near the famed Emerald Mine in B.C., point to big expansion of refining operations, since the demand for machine tools is tremendous under the pressure of the defense production drive, officials point out.

Salmo, about 27 miles south of Nelson in southern B.C., will be considered the biggest tungsten district in the world with the mill stepped up to 700-ton daily capacity.

Two other tungsten properties are also being developed in remote corners of B.C. One is at Hazelton, north of Prince Rupert, and the other near Atlin in the far northwestern corner of this province.

Buttle Appeal

Appeal against the damming of Buttle Lake for power purposes will continue Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the Coalition members' room at the Legislative Buildings.

It will be held before Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney.

This phase of the appeal will deal with all points of the Buttle Lake issue. The first part of the appeal, earlier this year, was confined to the matter of jurisdiction of E. H. Tredegar, water rights comptroller.

Sugar-Loving Baby Coyote Puzzles Game Wardens

Rumors of a strange animal prowling the city's outskirts were set at rest today by Game Warden Joseph Jones.

He trapped a three-month-old male coyote on Shelbourne Street near the Saanich Fire Hall.

The question now faced by game officials is—how did it get here?

"To my knowledge there are no coyotes on the Island," said Dr. Clifford Carl, biologist and director of the Provincial Museum. "They are quite numerous in parts of B.C., and are a big menace to Prairie farmers."

It is believed that the pup, friendly as any other baby canine of the same variety, had been kept as a pet and had escaped. Game wardens are positive it is the first coyote ever to reach Vancouver Island.

Miss Kathleen Collins, of the Public Works Department above the game offices on Elliott Street, where the little stranger is now being held, found him "quite chummy" and overly fond of lump sugar.

His future is uncertain. Wardens reported that the youngster would be kept alive and put on display at the museum for the public to view. It will be properly cared for, they said.

A Stranger in Our Midst

"Cute, isn't it?" says Kathleen Collins, as she feeds orphan coyote, trapped on Saanich Road today, a lump of sugar. Presumption is the pup escaped from his captors, as game officials say there are no coyote residents on the island.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

INSOMNIA AND INCLINATORS

AS ONE OF those fortunate folk who seldom suffer from sleeplessness, I have every sympathy with those who do. So I noted, with concern, the results of a poll taken in the United States some time ago showing that our neighbors to the south have the worst record for insomnia in an eight-nation survey.

Despite its being a prosperous and powerful country, the sleep of its people is more troubled than France, Holland, Britain, Canada, Denmark, Sweden and Norway—in that order.

THE SLEEPTEST

THAT SAME POLL also revealed some amusing sidelights on the sleeping habits of our neighbors. The survey brought out that American college graduates sleep more soundly than graduates of grammar schools, but why that should be isn't made clear. It also claims that women have more trouble sleeping than men—probably because they worry too much about the men, who know?

But, quite apart from the psychological reasons for the alleged sleeplessness of the American people, what intrigues me is why they should suffer from insomnia when so many gadgets and other inducements are daily advertised as ensuring sleep. Or is it because of them?

SLEEP INDUCERS

RIPPING THROUGH one of the most widely-circulated U.S. magazines the other day I was impressed by the highly-colored advertisements that were seemingly capitalizing on the sleeplessness of its readers. And here, let me interject, some of its articles and stories had such a soporific effect on me that I found myself nodding—without the aid of the gadgets in question.

You have only to read a few of these advertisements to realize that, if you think it is enough at night to put out the cat, plod upstairs, undress, flop into bed and fall asleep, you are undoubtedly suffering from delusions.

KING-SIZE BEDS

FOR INSTANCE, one firm exhorts you thus: "Never lose another night's sleep. Now you can have a king-sized bed, engineered to support you in the firm, healthful, natural way. You get not one but two hand-tied divans with eight built-in legs for proper support."

And, if the prospect of tossing about all over a king-sized bed with hand-tied and built-in features appalls you, then you can use an Inclinator. According to the ad: "Buy an Inclinator and ride upstairs. Be rid of the hardship of stair-climbing and heart-taxing strain and fatigue."

LEG ELEVATORS

AND WHILE ON the subject of Inclimators, there is another kind of elevator which evidently works the trick. If you suffer from sleeplessness because of blood pressure. One maker of leg elevators warns, in no uncertain terms, that "every person over 40 should sleep with his legs elevated."

It goes on to add that "the force of gravity speeds the return flow of blood to the heart, and this relieves varicose veins, phlebitis, leg cramps, leg arthritis and tired, aching feet or legs." But even if you don't happen to have any of the foregoing, the leg elevators will bring you sleep—if you haven't kicked them out of the bed long before.

POPPLES AND SHIELDS

SERVED WITH THE king-sized bed, an Inclinator and leg elevators, you should be all set for a sound night's sleep. But it might happen that somewhere in the vicinity is one of those snorers whose nasal ejaculations would wreck anyone's slumbers, so you just "pop a pair of So-and-So's rubber popples into your ears and the loudest snores will not penetrate into your subconscious."

After that, all you have to do is to don an eyeshield, lined with black velvet and "positively guaranteed to exclude the harshest light. Its soft lining will cling like a benediction to your weary brow."

By that time you should be so tucked out trying all these gadgets that you would sleep in spite of them all.

Stores, Homes Burgled As Theft Wave Continues

A wave of break-ins in city homes and business premises is continuing.

Fifteen were reported over the holiday week-end and the 16th occurred overnight Monday when $8 in silver was taken from Harris' Bicycle Shop at 758 Fort Street. Entry was made to the store by breaking a window in the rear door.

Alderman W. F. Pinfold, 1520 Despard, victim of a week-end prowler, told police Monday that loot taken from his home included four suits and a radio.

W. B. Young, 77-year-old proprietor of the Camera Exchange at 1011-1013, turned in a list of cameras stolen from his premises at the week-end.

He told police 16 cameras, a watch, telescope, a pair of binoculars, and the lens of a camera were stolen.

Rites Planned For Sportsman

Funeral services will be held at McCall's Funeral Home Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. for R. W. Hurst, 2346 Killarney, well-known local sportsman, who died Sunday. He was 75.

A long-time Brentwood fisherman, Mr. Hurst manufactured bird decoys and was the originator of the Peterborough brand canoe. He was Victoria manager for Western Woodworkers for 27 years.

Rev. George Biddle will officiate at the funeral service. Burial will be at Colwood Cemetery.

Surviving are his widow; three daughters, Mrs. J. H. Francis, of Vancouver, and Mrs. M. Lehm and Mrs. Bruce Irvine, both of Victoria, and one son, Reginald R., of Victoria.

Mystery Surrounds Departure Delay Of Egyptian Ambassador for Britain

CAIRO, April 15 (CP)—The Egyptian ambassador's mission to London was held up again today and observers were puzzled by the continuing delay and secrecy surrounding his departure.

Ambassador Abdel Amr is believed to be taking a proposal to the British Foreign Office which may break the Anglo-Egyptian diplomatic deadlock over the Suez and the Sudan.

On each of the last four days the ambassador has been reported ready to leave—then at the last minute his flight has been called off. A special government plane has been standing ready at the airport all the time.

Amr said this morning he expects to take off "some time today," but did not know the exact time.

During the delay exploratory talks between British Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson and the Egyptian government have continued. Amr has sat in on these conferences, including one last Sunday when Stevenson handed over a message from Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Meanwhile, the Egyptian government was reported today to be considering settlement of claims by stores, theatres and other business firms for the damage caused in the Jan. 26 "Black Saturday" fires and riots.

Premier Hilali was said to be preparing to pay out 8,000,000 Egyptian pounds ($23,000,000) as "full settlement."

The government had earlier earmarked 5,000,000 Egyptian pounds ($14,350,000) as loans to damaged places of business.

The government announced today that the curfew imposed in Cairo after the January fire riots would be lifted for Ramadan, the Moslem holy month starting June 5.

Interior Minister Ahmed Mortada El Maraghi Bey said the curfew was being raised at the "express wish" of King Farouk. It now is in force from midnight until 5 a.m.

During Ramadan the Moslem religion requires fasting from dawn to sunset, but permits eating during the night hours.

U.N. Tank Force Bombards Communist Lines

SEOUL, Korea, April 15 (AP).

A powerful United Nations tank force killed or wounded 300 Chinese Reds Monday in a furious bombardment of Communist lines on the central Korean front, the U.S. Eighth Army announced.

Fifty-four Allied tanks fired for an hour and 45 minutes from positions in front of U.N. lines. It was the biggest tank action in two months.

Eighth Army said the tanks, firing from no-man's-land south-west of Kumsong, destroyed or damaged 99 Red bunkers, a field gun, 16 buildings, 39 trenches and 15 gun emplacements. The Communists fought back with 300 artillery and mortar shells and machine-gun fire.

Allied infantrymen early today retook a hill east of the Pukhan River on the central front.

Who owns the Nickel Company?

"Have you a share in it, Dad?"
"No, son—but yet, in a way I have a share, too. I own life insurance to protect Mother and you. The money I pay to the insurance company each year is invested in many things, including shares in the Nickel Company. So actually Inco is owned by most everybody."

"Do you have to be rich to get a share?"
"No, the Company is owned by many people like Doctor Smith and Mrs. Munroe, and the grocer and the street car conductor. No one owns more than a very small part."

"It's this way, son. Suppose you want a bobbed but haven't enough money to buy one. But you and Jack and Tom among you can raise the necessary cash. So you buy the sled, and all go coasting together. Well, no one person owns the Nickel Company. It's owned by a great many people. Each owns a certain share."

HERE, THERE AND EVERYWHERE

Condensed from CP, AP, and UP Dispatches

DRAPED—In Perth, Australia, a tight security curtain will be draped around two Royal Navy tank landing ships due at Freemantle Wednesday with men and equipment for testing Britain's atomic weapon in Australia. They left Portsmouth, England, Feb. 18.

London reports said the Narvik and Zeebrugge carry 400 tons of equipment, including an electrical plant and armor-plated cable.

The site of the tests has not been officially announced. It could be the Woomera rocket range, the isolated northern coast of western Australia or a spot in the Central Desert.

Prime Minister Churchill said recently it would not be practicable for newspaper men or any unofficial observers to be present at the tests.

RETIRED—In Montreal, Leonard J. Knowles, 65-year-old assistant to the president of the Canadian National Railways, has retired, it was announced today. He was an authority on freight rates.

Mr. Knowles served as traffic advisor to the recent Royal Commission on transportation and frequently testified in rate cases before the Board of Transport Commissioners in Canada and the Inter-State Commerce Commission in the United States.

COMFORTABLE—In London, George Robertson, Regina, secretary of the Saskatchewan wheat pool, operated on while traveling to Britain aboard the liner Queen Mary, was reported today to be "quite comfortable."

Robertson, removed to the Queen's Gate private clinic in London when the liner arrived Monday at Southampton, is under observation and may have to undergo another operation, it was learned.

EXCHANGE—In Reading, Eng., Canadian, British and American air cadets will exchange visits next August under a three-way plan to be worked out this week at the Cookham Dean R.A.F. centre near here.

Britain will send 25 cadets to the United States and another 25 to Canada for a two-week trip, while 25 American and 25 Canadian cadets will come to this country. Canada and the U.S. will also exchange cadets.

PAINTER—In Vinci, Italy, heads of states and representatives of nations came to the hillside village today in tribute to a peasant woman's son who invented steam cannon, designed batwinged airplanes, and painted the faint smile on the lips of the Mona Lisa.

Leonardo Da Vinci, born 500 years ago today, took his name from the village, and gave it a half thousand years of fame.

The fifth centennial of the "Man of the Renaissance" united momentarily the East and West. Moscow's newspapers and radio hailed him as a "genius of world culture."

Italy's President Luigi Einaudi and Premier Alcide De Gasperi came here with Mexico's Jaime Torres-Bodet, director general of the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization, and ambassadors of half a dozen countries.

DENIAL—In Tehran, Iran, George Middleton, British charge d'affaires in Tehran, today denied that he had met tribal leaders or intrigued against the Iranian government in a recent visit to south Persia.

He said reports to this effect which had been circulating in Tehran in the past few days were "completely unfounded."

He will call on the foreign minister Wednesday to express "regret" at such reports.

JAM—In Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., mush ice tied up 50 freighters today in what veteran sailors called the worst traffic jam in the history of St. Mary's River.

The trouble spot is at Rock Cut, 18 miles down the river, where the ice has been churned to a sticky mass impossible for smaller vessels to penetrate. Ships push the ice to the side of the river where it drops to the bottom and gradually builds up toward the channel.

Fifty freighters were waiting in Whitefish Bay to pass through the Soo locks and more were arriving from Lakehead.

FLOUTED—In Capetown, Opposition Leader J. G. N. Strauss said today the South African government's determination to establish the authority of Parliament over the courts could lead only to anarchy and revolution.

He spoke in the Assembly after it reconvened for a session at which Prime Minister Daniel Malan plans to introduce a bill to deprive the courts of the right to test acts of Parliament.

He accused the government of "flouting the law of the land" by refusing to accept a recent Supreme Court judgment invalidating an act which removed voters of mixed blood from the common voters' roll and gave them special representation by white members of Parliament.

Strauss scoffed at the government's contention that its measures were necessary to save white civilization.

WITHDRAWALS—In Jefferson City, Mo., a Roman Catholic order has decided to withdraw nuns serving as teachers in several Missouri public schools.

Withdrawal notices were received by school board members of the St. Thomas and St. Martin's districts near here.

Mother Evangelia, head of the St. Louis provincial office of the Sisters of Notre-Dame, sent the notifications to the board members but gave no reason for the action.

The nun-teacher issue has resulted in two lawsuits in which the plaintiffs contend paying Catholic nuns to teach in public schools violates Federal and State constitutions, which require separation of church and state.

Drew Keeping Out of B.C.'s Hustings Fight

Federal Party
Pessimistic

By BRIAN O'LEARY

OTTAWA, April 15.—If there are any B.C. Tories who hope that Tory leader George Drew will be coming to their aid in the June provincial election, they can just forget it.

Drew has categorically refused to take any part in B.C.'s coming electoral battle, it was learned here today.

The national Tory leader made this abundantly clear very recently to provincial Tories in British Columbia. They had begged him to come out to the coast and take an active hand in the battle.

Drew turned their requests down flat. The official reason given them by Drew, it was learned, was that as a national leader who has championed provincial rights for the past 10 years he can not now take an active part in any provincial battle.

NO GAIN SEEN
Actually the national Tory party would be "amazed" if the Anscomb Tories came through with any major victory. They had 11 members in the last legislature out of a total of 48. They are not expected to increase this by very much, if at all.

Not even the new preferential system of voting, where each voter has a second and third choice, is expected by national Tories to give them much chance of victory.

ANOTHER STALEMATE
Actually what is expected here in Ottawa by all political groups is a stalemate in B.C. with no party having an overall legislative majority, and the return to coalition government.

This the national Tories do not want to see. It has been in the eyes of many of them here, the ruin of the B.C. provincial Tory party.

Congressional Economy to Blame For Much of Flood Damage, Charge

WASHINGTON, April 15 (UP)—Government officials said today congressional economy was partly to blame for the terrible flood damage inflicted by the rampaging Missouri River.

Army engineers and bureau of reclamation officials agreed that the present record flood crest "could have been checked" by the huge network of 100 dams and reservoirs envisioned in the $5,500,000,000 Pick-Sloan plan for the Missouri basin.

But they said that only a small part of the plan—a total of 19 dams—actually has been completed.

A. O. Babb, assistant program director of the reclamation bureau, said that the work done to date "has not been sufficient to have an appreciable effect on the current flood."

"There simply hasn't been enough work done," he told a reporter. "Congress approved the plan in principle, but has not appropriated enough money to finance it."

Babb said the bureau has received only one-tenth of the $3,000,000,000 it needs to complete its portion of the Pick-Sloan plan.

At the Pentagon, an official estimated the army engineers have completed "roughly one-third" of their work. If it were completed now, the official said, there would have been "very little damage" from the present flood.

At the current rate of spending, Babb said, it will take 75 years to complete the Pick-Sloan plan instead of the 25 years predicted when congress approved it in 1944.

...THE FILTER TIP protects your throat

WHAT THE FILTER TIP DOES

It stops particles of tobacco getting into the throat.

It is the common-sense method of preventing smoker's throat because it effectively retains irritants.

It guards physical fitness.

It brings out the flavour and makes the smoke delightfully sweet and cool.

You can light your first du Maurier confident of better smoking. A du Maurier cigarette is a new experience. Scrupulous care is taken in choosing and blending the tobacco for rich and distinctive flavour. Then the particular filter tip—which selects and withholds whatever might taint or tarnish the natural smoke with any heat or harshness—keeps that flavour always cool and mellow. For these reasons the pleasure you find in your first experience will not be a thing that passes: you will find it renewed in every du Maurier you smoke.

There'll never be a better cigarette

New Warships Fill Big Need

TORONTO, April 15 (BUP)—Canada's new destroyer escort vessels being built mainly for North Atlantic patrol work will replace the frigates and corvettes that made history in the Second World War, a senior naval officer said today.

Rear Admiral J. G. Knowlton, chief of naval technical services, said the corvette was "entirely unsuitable" today for dealing with modern submarines. He said in a special naval issue of Canadian Shipping, published in Toronto, that Canada would have "very heavy" naval responsibilities under the North Atlantic Treaty.

"When the Second World War broke out, the navy only had 13 ships in commission," he said.

"None of these had been designed or fitted out solely for the purpose of fighting submarines."

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1932—375.4 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: There is a very extensive storm centre about 400 miles west of the Queen Charlotte Islands. This storm is already giving gales along the North Coast. These strong winds will spread slowly southward over Vancouver Island as the day progresses.

Rain from this disturbance is general along the West Coast of Vancouver Island and the North Coast, but it will probably be late today before there is rain on the lower Mainland.

It will be another fine warm day in the Interior today. However, cloudiness will increase tonight.

Showery conditions will be general over the region Wednesday in the wake of the storm.

REGIONAL FORECASTS VALID UNTIL MIDNIGHT WEDNESDAY

VICTORIA: Cloudy today and Wednesday. Intermittent rain tonight and Wednesday. Little change in temperature. Winds light, becoming easterly 20 to 30 tonight and high Wednesday, 45 and 55.

WEST COAST: Rain today and Wednesday. A little milder. Winds southeasterly increasing to 45 this afternoon and shifting to southwest 30 early Wednesday morning. Low tonight and high Wednesday at Estevan, 45 and 55.

VANCOUVER AND GEORGIA STRAIT: Cloudy today and Wednesday. Intermittent rain tonight and Wednesday. Little change in temperature. Winds southeasterly, except southeasterly 30 in Georgia Strait. Low tonight and high Wednesday at Cowichan Bay, 45 and 55.

Arabs to Push Special Meet, U.N. Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., April 15 (AP)—Asian-African nations pushed today for an emergency session of the United Nations General Assembly in the wake of western refusal to let the Security Council take up a complaint against France's treatment of Tunisia.

The council's western majority refused Monday night to admit for discussion the 11-nation charge that France is oppressing her North African protectorates, in which more than 100 persons have died this year in riots sparked by Nationalist demands for more self-rule.

It was one of the rare occasions in which the council had turned down a member's request to discuss a complaint.

Asia-African authors of the charges against France, anticipating the defeat, already had cabled their governments to say if they wanted a special assembly. Affirmative replies were expected and there were strong indications the group could rally the 31 U.N. members necessary to call the session.

The move to put the Tunisian complaint on the council agenda needed only five affirmative votes.

The motions needed seven votes for adoption. The year came from Pakistan, China, Russia, Brazil and Chile. France and Britain cast the negative votes and the United States, Greece, Turkey and the Netherlands abstained.

JORDAN RIVER, April 15—Frank Mitchell, last M.L.A. for the district, agreed with Sooke-Jordan River Chamber of Commerce that completion of hard surfacing of the Sooke-Jordan River Road would be both economical and desirable.

In an address to the chamber he dealt mainly with the proceedings of the last session of the B.C. legislature.

Sons Sect Reported Seeking New Home

VANCOUVER, April 15 (CP)—A Vancouver newspaper says today in a dispatch from Grand Forks, B.C., that Stefan W. Sorokin has left for South America with the "purpose of seeking a new home for Canada's Doukhobor population."

Sorokin is a spiritual leader of the Sons of Freedom sect of the Doukhobors.

The story says the Doukhobors have "secretly exported" $94,000 to the U.S. to finance Sorokin's trip to South America. It adds: "Authoritative Doukhobor sources here (Grand Forks) report that the move was made by agreement between leaders of the Sons of Freedom and orthodox and independent Doukhobors."

Sorokin... left Los Angeles on March 23 for Montevideo, Uruguay, via New York. Among countries he will visit are Uruguay, Paraguay, Bolivia and Chile, for the purpose of seeking a new home for Canada's Doukhobor population.

The dispatch says Doukhobor leaders decided to finance the trip after conferences "with a California religious group of Russian origin—the Molokans—who have their eye on a 300,000-acre estate in Paraguay."

Some of the leading Molokans suggested that the Doukhobors move to Paraguay with the California colony.

Doukhobor leaders stressed the story says, that 90 per cent of the orthodox members of the sect—as well as the troublesome Sons of Freedom—are anxious to leave if they can find a country willing to accept them.

WANGER TRIAL MAY FIZZLE SENSATIONLESS

Judge Will Decide
Fate of Producer

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April 14 (AP).—The Walter Wanger shooting case, which Hollywood expected would produce some sizzling courtroom testimony, went to court today—but no sensations were expected.

Prosecution and defense counsel agreed Monday to let a judge decide the 57-year-old producer's fate on the basis of testimony before the grand jury.

The county grand jury indicted Wanger, one of filmland's most respected moviemakers, last Dec. 18 on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

Five days earlier in a Beverly Hills parking lot, while his wife, actress Joan Bennett, looked on, Wanger shot her agent, Jennings Lang, 39. Lang was seriously wounded in the groin but is now up and around again. Wanger said he did it because Lang "broke up my home." Miss Bennett and Lang said their relationship was strictly business.

Lang, Miss Bennett and 10 other persons had been subpoenaed by the prosecution to testify in what was expected to be a bitter, lengthy trial. Now there will be no testimony. Superior Judge Harry J. Borde will read the grand jury transcript and decide the case, probably within two weeks.

PERSONAL DIARY

Wanger, who if convicted could be sentenced to from one to 16 years in prison, pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of temporary insanity. His counsel, Jerry Giesler, said Monday the insanity plea will be withdrawn. He added that he will plead with the court to reduce the charge to assault with a deadly weapon, a lesser offense for which the penalty would probably be a jail sentence.

The grand jury transcript contains testimony by seven witnesses—policemen, doctors and attendants at a service station near the scene of the shooting. It contains no testimony from the principals.

Giesler has said that if the case went before a jury he intended to introduce in evidence Wanger's personal diary together with reports from private detectives to back up Wanger's accusation that Lang stole his wife's love.

The Wangers, estranged since the shooting, were married in 1940.

Alberta Teachers May Strike Against Award

CALGARY, April 15 (CP).—Delegates to the annual meeting of the Alberta Teachers' Association prepared to debate whether the association will support a striking local.

Strike action will be discussed by the association because of a dispute between the Stettler local and the Stettler school board.

The local turned down a provincial arbitration board award. Members of the local have voted to take strike action.

Delegates will decide within the next two days whether to support the Stettler members if they go on strike.

A motion that teachers receive 100 per cent of their wages while on strike was tabled Monday until another resolution on methods of raising the money comes before the meeting.

The second resolution asks the A.T.A. executive council to set up a strike wage fund. The money would be raised by a levy of $1 a week from every teacher while the strike was in progress and for as long after the strike as the executive considered necessary.

Donation Refused

CALGARY, April 15 (CP).—City council decided Monday night not to give assistance to Medicine Hat flood relief fund.

Medicine Hat flood committee had asked for a donation from the city, pointing out that the target is $200,000.

Ald. D. F. McIntosh said that Calgary city council has not given a grant to the local flood fund.

SHOCK COMING FOR PIGEONS

PHILADELPHIA, April 15 (AP).—The city of Philadelphia is going to give its city hall pigeons an electrical "hot foot."

The city fathers announced yesterday that workmen had begun installing an experimental electrical grill around the gray stone building—long plagued by the birds and their natural habits.

The idea of the grill is that any pigeons attempting to roost on it will get a shock strong enough to send them winging elsewhere in a hurry.

A Warning about Foreign Attachments to Telephones

Telephone subscribers are reminded that the use of telephone attachments unauthorized by the Telephone Company is contrary to regulations governing telephone service. This is pointed out because from time to time certain devices of this kind appear on the market and are offered for sale or for rent to telephone users.

The regulation applying to "non-approved devices" follows:

The subscribers shall not use or permit to be used any electrical or mechanical apparatus or device in connection with the equipment or facilities furnished by the Company without the written consent of the Company, or permit the attachment of advertising devices thereto. If any apparatus or devices of any kind other than those furnished or approved by the Company are attached to or connected with any part of the Company's property, the Company may remove such apparatus or devices or terminate the service.

This regulation is, of course, in the interests of good telephone service and, therefore, for the protection of telephone subscribers generally. Some attachments to telephones can impair service. And interference with service on one telephone does not stop with that instrument. Others are bound to be affected.

That's why telephone regulations prohibit telephone attachments without the written consent of the Telephone Company.

A Protest All in Vain

The Cougars rallied in true form when their coach Roger Leger received a cut above the eye from Bill Heindl's skate in the second period. They swarmed about referee Eddie Powers and linesman Bill Knott like flies, and protested long and loud about Leger's mishap. About the only thing that came out of their "beef" with the officials was a 10-minute misconduct penalty to goalie Jerry Cotnoir for spearing Powers with his stick. Seen milling about Powers and Knott are, left to right: Johnny Chad, Bill McCullough, Bernie Strongman, Jerry Cotnoir, Walt Atanas and Ernie Roche. At the extreme left are Quakers' Bill Heindl and Alex Kaleta.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

The current P.C.H.L. playoff series between Saskatoon Quakers and Victoria Cougars which, for Victoria fans ends here Wednesday night, could rival a blood-letting ceremony in which the Red Cross would gladly like to share if the present trend continues.

Feeling runs high between the two clubs and reached its peak Monday night when Roger Leger received a deep gash above his right eye, plus a small nick below. But actually this incident which touched off the fuse that was simmering within the two teams, was an accident.

Leger himself said so. Bill Heindl's skate catching Leger as the Cougar coach attempted to wrestle the Quaker defenseman to the ice.

And from then on referee Eddie Powers had his mittens full as he attempted to dampen the over-zealous ardor of the competitors. Memorial Arena for a time threatened to turn into an old-fashioned lion den.

It is to be expected with so much at stake between the two clubs—the veteran band of Quakers, and the Cougars, the cinderella kids who came from the other side of the tracks to get into this battle royal.

It is also obvious that Leger has been the centre of attention of the Quakers, the feeling being, perhaps, that if Leger is stopped, so will be the Cougars.

On the other hand the Cougars haven't been any little Lord Fauntleroy in satin suits and, despite a minimum of penalties, checking at times could be described as fierce.

The Quakers are a big team and rough and ready and they use their weight to advantage and mostly to good discretion. The Cougars appear to be relying on their fast-skating wings to cut down the Quaker potential.

Owner Lester Patrick, just back from Montreal, saw his club for the first time Monday since the season ended back on March 23—and he was impressed.

"Certainly, I'm pleased with the team," he asserted after a little prodding. "They're doing well."

No Plans for Next Year—Lester

But naturally the big question was concerning a report which appeared recently in a Montreal paper in which a well-known columnist reported, in effect that Leger would not be back here next year.

In reply, Patrick said he had never spoken to the columnist in question and for that matter hadn't seen him on the trip east.

"As to next year," Patrick said, "I have made no plans whatsoever. Leger is still the property of the Montreal Canadiens and I have not discussed his status for next year with them and wouldn't at this time with them engaged in the Stanley Cup series."

Locally, the series between the Quakers and Cougars is so tight that neither Leger nor Bentley, the rival coaches, will go out on a limb. A Quaker victory here Wednesday would definitely give the Saskatoon squad a stranglehold on the championship as the remainder of the series will be played in Saskatoon.

Familiar Role for Cougars

However, one defeat shouldn't bother the Cougars. At least, it hasn't so far. They've shown an amazing ability to bounce. They did it at the tail end of the season and they did in the semifinal series against New Westminster Royals.

In both games to date the Cougars have outshot the Quakers but their shooting has been on the spotty side while the Quakers appear to have the happy faculty of taking advantage of any breaks that are offered.

The goaltending has been slightly terrific, with little to choose between "Gump" Worsley and Jerry Cotnoir, the latter incidentally playing his best hockey of the season.

Wednesday's game could go a long way towards deciding the final result.

Two radio stations are airing the Quaker-Cougar series direct to Saskatoon. . . C.F.V. and CKDA will return the compliment to Victoria fans when the teams move to Quaker town with Ted Reynolds at the scene of operations for V.I. . . Several Saskatoon fans made the trip west to root their Quakers home. . . And there is a rumor and it has foundation that Max Bentley, brother of Doug, would like to end his hockey career in the P.C.H.L. starting next year. . . The three-sided report is that, 1—Max has been offered a handsome increase to stay with Maple Leafs; 2—An attempt has been made to interest him in the Seattle franchise, and 3—He will play for Doug at Saskatoon. . . It's odd too that in every playoff game in which the Cougars have participated in this season, the team scoring the first goal has emerged the winner. . . The Bentley family reunion at Dellsle every summer attracts 45 of the clan, according to Mrs. Donaldson of Seattle, a sister of Doug's who is here for the series. . .

Cougars were tendered a dinner by the Poodle Dog Cafe Monday. . . Johnny Chad is reported to have suffered a groin injury in Monday's clash with the Cougars, but it is not believed serious enough to keep him out of action. . . Quotable quote by Shamrock manager Ralph Baker: "I'm probably the only guy who was glad to see the Cougars lose Monday." Baker's Rocks will now get the use of Memorial Arena for their drills sooner than expected. . . And what about Reg Patterson and his Tyees? Discouraging isn't it Reg?

P.S.—Baseball ticket sale opens today.

McAllister Has Shutout Soccer Sequence Broken

Husky Victoria United goalkeeper Bill McAllister had his shutout string lopped off at three straight games Sunday as United mauled Courtenay 6-1 in an exhibition match at Courtenay.

Previously McAllister had scored two straight Coast League blankings and had hung the collar on the Greater Victoria All Stars in the Sunday day Juvenile Day program.

The string was broken when Frank Coates headed a pass into McAllister's nets for the only Courtenay goal.

Playing coach Wally Milligan was the big gun in United's victory as he rapped in a pair of goals and set up others with his canny passing.

Outside Cedric Robb sent United into an early lead but Coates tied it up minutes later.

Robb set Den McGee up for the second United goal and Milligan, converting Bernie Clarkson's feeder, made it 3-1 for Victoria.

Shortly after the intermission and Noel Morgan notched his first United goal since joining the club three weeks ago.

Milligan climaxed the game by dribbling through the entire Courtenay defense to score United's last goal.

On to Victory, Brrrrr!

As far as this rabid fan, caught during the heat of action in the Saskatoon-Victoria encounter Monday night, is concerned, noise and only noise is the thing that will lead his team on to victory. The unidentified rooster came well equipped with a noisemaker for when his voice gave out. Who was he pulling for? Only he knows.

Hockey or Not, Tyees on Move

It may come as a jolt, with hockey hogging the spotlight, but the Western International Baseball League lifts its curtain one week from today.

The foremost exponent on that last bit of information is Reg Patterson, Tyee business manager.

On giving his daily report from Salinas, Calif., Patterson prefaces his remarks with the query: "Are they (the Cougars) still in there?"

Patterson, manager Cec Garrett and the club broke camp at Salinas today and headed for Redding, the first stop in a line of exhibition jaunts that will end in Yakima with the league opener next Tuesday.

While the club is shaping up under the watchful and discerning eye of Garrett, there is still a lack of pitching depth. Four good fingers would delight Patterson with the emphasis on a starting right hander.

The pitching problem was partially alleviated Monday when left-hander Jim Heard was assigned to the club. He will report in the next day or two. Fireballing Bob Drilling and crafty lefty Cal McElvin are as expected to report from Portland within a few days.

MARCUCCI EXPECTED
In addition, the chances of Lillo Marcucci returning to Victoria loom brighter every day. The long ball threat has been with Portland but it appears that veteran Jimmy Gladd has sewn down the catching spot. Patterson said this morning that he expects Marcucci to join the club by the end of the month. Season tickets went on sale at the ball park today and will be available every day.

Comox Pair Gorge Winners

The partnership of Miss I. Wilson and Miss M. Stevenson, both from Comox, won the annual Easter Friday four-ball best-ball tournament at Gorge Vale Golf Club, posting a net 764.

Runners-up were Shirley Fry and Dorothy Herbertson with net 794. Mrs. Jackson of Nanaimo and Mrs. Kersey of Gorge Vale won the low gross championship. Winners of the low net for the first nine were Miss L. Harris and Mrs. J. Davis of Gorge, while Mrs. G. Stelk and Mrs. Butler of Colwood were the second nine winners.

Mrs. W. Erickson and Miss Harrell of Uplands won the hidden hole competition, while Mrs. O. Carroll and Mrs. A. Swan of Gorge Vale won the putting competition. Miss I. Stock and Miss E. Waymark of Gorge Vale were runners-up in the putting trial.

SHAMROCKS LOSE THEIR TIGER

Red's Loss Felt By Everyone

By DENNY BOYD

They may have to do it without the red-headed tiger this year and Shamrocks, without Red McMillan, will be like bromo seltzer without it's effervescent fizz.

The tragic accident near Mill Bay Sunday that involved Red McMillan, his wife and mother, appears to have ended a great sports career for one of the most popular athletes in the city.

McMillan's knee-cap was smashed in the accident and doctors were forced to remove the cap Monday.

While chances are that McMillan will be forced to retire from active participation in sports, one local doctor had a note of optimism. He stated that the loss of a knee-cap need not necessarily incapacitate an athlete and that with proper exercises, the knee could be as strong as ever within a year.

Time alone will tell and the trial period will be as important to hundreds of sports fans in Victoria as it will to McMillan and his family.

No matter what the sport was, McMillan's style has always been described as "terrier-

Wings Can Lift Crown Tonight

DETROIT, April 15 (CP).—This is the night Detroit Red Wings can reach their greatest heights since the club joined the National Hockey League 26 years ago. It can also be a black-bordered chapter in the big-league life of Montreal Canadiens.

That's the situation as the two clubs get set for the fourth game in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup final at Olympia Stadium before an expected sell-out house of more than 14,000 fans. Statistically, the figure fiberts are having a big time this series.

They have everything taped in event the Red Shirts complete the cycle and record victory No. 4 over the Flying Frenchmen in the trophy chase. Following up their four straight dumping of Toronto Maple Leafs in the preliminary round, this would give Detroit an unblemished playoff record for one season, something never accomplished since the best-of-seven series started in 1939, and the odds are all with the Red Wings.

RUGGED SEMIFINAL

The Canadiens, due to an assortment of injuries, simply aren't flying. Added to that, they battled through seven hard semifinal games before getting past Boston Bruins, while the Wings rubbed out the Leafs in the minimum number and marked time until Montreal was ready.

HIT DOWN MIDDLE

The injuries hit Canadiens where it hurts most—down the middle—depriving them of a necessary depth to hold out the rested and well-conditioned league champions.

Canadiens first lost John MacCormack, their sweep-checking defensive centre, at the tail end of the season. Centre Ken Mosdell joined MacCormack in the sick bay during the Boston round and Billy Reay moved to the sidelines in last Saturday night's game at Montreal which Detroit won 2-1.

Season tickets went on sale at the ball park today and will be available every day. The foremost exponent on that last bit of information is Reg Patterson, Tyee business manager. On giving his daily report from Salinas, Calif., Patterson prefaces his remarks with the query: "Are they (the Cougars) still in there?" MATTHEWS WINS
PORTLAND, April 15 (BUP).—Harry "Kid" Matthews of Seattle knocked out Charlie Eagle of Waterbury, Conn., in the fifth round of their scheduled 10-round main event at Portland Monday.

NEW ORLEANS—Gianni Thodis, 137 lb., Milan, Italy, defeated Kid Centola, 135 lb., Managua, 137 lb., Alfreo Lopez, 140 lb., Milan, and Joe Hartigan, 142 lb., New Orleans, drew (15).

Goaltenders' Battle Sees Quakers Square Ice Final

Saskatoon 3, Victoria 1
(Best-of-seven series tied 1-1)

By BILL WALKER

They moved the centre ring of Madison Square Garden complete with all the trumpets into Memorial Arena for a time Monday night, and when the cannonading had ceased, Saskatoon Quakers were all square with Victoria Cougars in their best-of-seven mix for the Pacific Coast Hockey League championship.

The Quakers threw the most lethal blows in the 3-1 victory that was little reflection on the actual play, the Cougars tossing more rubber but swinging wildly most of the evening.

In brief, there was a slam bang, wide-open first period.

Then there was the gallant and yet tragic figure of Roger Leger skating the wrong way in his pain and confusion, after suffering a near serious eye injury in the second period; and later in the same period with blood smeared on his sweat-stained face rallying his club for the tie-goal.

Then there was again a disputed goal, or rather, no goal for the Cougars.

Little "Gump" Worsley, who is no bigger than a thimbleful of fresh air, and Jerry Cotnoir, fast becoming the most volatile personality in Cougar livery, were the principals.

The decision went to Worsley by a majority vote based on 24 saves in the second period alone and a total of 40 for the night.

Cotnoir was equally as adept at handling the Quakers' best, especially in the first period, and deserved a better fate. His total contribution was 32 saves, plus a 10-minute misconduct penalty for spearing referee Eddie Powers.

Cotnoir in Brilliant Stand

It was all Quakers after a brief skirmish in the first seven minutes, and they buzzed around the Cougar net like buzzards around a carcass before Alex Kaleta fired the opening shot at 17:08 of the first period. Time and time again Cotnoir held the foe at bay until Kaleta's marker.

And if there's anyone Saskatoon's George Senick would care less to meet in a crease for some time, it's Cotnoir.

Senick, who had four clean breaks in the series opener Saturday night, only to bow to Cotnoir's superior judgment, had half the ice to himself again in the first period Monday, but still no goal.

It couldn't be Powers' good fortune to have a series in which he was the only one to have a goal.

Ernie Roche was the Cougar who joined the "disputed goal club," his shot appearing to go in the net and out at the 10-minute mark as the Cougars were applying terrific pressure on Worsley.

Goal judge Doug Bray flashed the red light on the play, but Powers who was in line with the goal, immediately ruled "no goal." Bray said the puck hit the centre upright and bounced out.

Leger received a tremendous hand on his return to the ice and responded fittingly enough with the shot at 19:31 which Les Hickey deflected into the net to tie the score. Senick, who had been serving a penalty, had barely returned to the ice when Leger shot after taking a pass from Walt Atanas.

Cougars continued to harass the Quakers with the start of the third period, but suddenly the tide of battle changed.

A quick break by Senick, who has been always dangerous in this series, resulted in Chuck McCullough drawing a bead on Cotnoir's well guarded citadel at 6:21 to give the Quakers the lead.

Quakers then went into a deep freeze and playing percentage hockey were cheated twice again by Cotnoir on breaks by Kaleta and Kuzma, while holding the Cougars safe though at close quarters.

Bentley a Fine One to Talk—Roger

Doug Bentley eased the strain at 17:09 when he banged in his own rebound from a pass out by Senick, and the final verdict was unanimous when Leger drew his third interference penalty of the game for removing Worsley from the goal area in no uncertain terms at 18:38.

Leger only had two comments to make after the game.

One was that the Wednesday game was highly important and in this regard Jack McIntyre would be replacing Leon Bouchard, and the other was concerning Bentley.

"He's a fine one to talk about Saturday's goal (the game winner by Leger) being scored from the crease. He was in the crease when he took Senick's pass for his goal tonight," Roger said.

Bentley, on the other hand, had little fault to find with things. "That's good for us," he said.

NOT EXPECTED TO GO DISTANCE

Savage Slugfest Seen In Welter Title Bout

CHICAGO, April 15 (AP).—Ray Robinson's middleweight title defense against mauler Rocky Graziano Wednesday night is expected to be a savage slugfest that will fall far short of going the scheduled 15-round distance.

Most observers believe the brawl will either be stopped by the referee for a technical knock-out or end in a 10-count before the 10th round.

The only surprise, they say, would be a Graziano victory. Champion Sugar Ray is a solid 3-to-1 choice to ring up his 131st professional win and score his 86th kayo since he flashed out of the amateur ranks as a 20-year-old sensation in 1940.

The prospect of an action-packed scrap, carrying somewhat the aura of brutality and blood-spilling of a bullfight, may lure more than 19,000 customers to Chicago Stadium.

Both fighters can be remembered for a bloody and spunk in previous Chicago Stadium brawls.

In 1947, Graziano was badly beaten and almost battered into submission in three rounds by Tony Zale then came back to fin-

FILM REVIEW

TWO FOR THE SHOW

By PHIL LEE

AA (Oscar class). BB (Worthwhile).
A (Don't miss). B (For rainy days).
C (To put in time).

(A) "THE MAN IN THE WHITE SUIT" (Odeon)—If you are an Alec Guinness admirer (and who isn't?) it would be advisable to see this one, his latest, with an open mind. Whatever you do don't go in a "Kind Hearts and Coronet" (or even a "Lavender Hill Mob") mood or you may be disappointed when reality you shouldn't be. This is the tale of a chemist who through his unbelievably rhythmic test tube bubble sorcery invents a cloth that is both indestructible and unsoilable. You can imagine what this, if it were allowed on the world textile market, would do to Britain's important industry. No one realizes the inherent danger more than English labor and management. It is their joint attempt to suppress the sad-eyed visionary chemist's effort to tell the world about his invention that makes another of Britain's wonderful comedies.

In spite of the film being comedy, of its utter improbability, the show has a solidity and a character that implies both body and reality. This is becoming known as the Ealing (England's equivalent of Hollywood) touch, a touch that is placing that country's movie-making in a much-envied class. "The Man in the White Suit," a J. Arthur Rank production, owes its success, in my opinion, to what the British stress most in their films, sound characterization of the secondary and minor parts. The star's casting is not to outshine but—as it should be—to complement the whole effect.

Another thing which makes the English picture so thoroughly enjoyable is that obvious and splendid tendency in the direction to have the characters undercut rather than overact their parts. Watching stars like Guinness, Joan Greenwood and Cecil Parker perform is similar to entering a house or a street and coming unexpectedly upon a casual scene. Their acting is about that lifelike.

Surely there can be no higher compliment than that.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

The pups who live at our house are heartless beasts. Over the weekend, they spotted an ad in the Lost and Found column, offering a $50 reward for the recovery of a cat. "Boy," said Dempsey, "imagine getting fifty bucks for catching a cat."

"Does it say dead or alive?" the Duchess asked hopefully. "Show me the way," cried Punch. "I'll catch that cat for free."

"Says here the cat was lost in James Bay," said Dempsey. "That's ridiculous," said the Duchess. "No cat would ever get lost in a bay."

"Says here this cat is gentle," said Dempsey, skeptically. "You show me the cat, I'll give you $50," growled Punch, ferociously.

At that moment, the pups' mother came up to the three of them.

"Stop that tough talk," she commanded, cuffing them all absent-mindedly. "Did I bring you up to be ruffians?"

"Have you no hearts?" she asked. "How would you like it if you were lost, and couldn't find your way home to get your dinner?"

"Supposing you were out in a storm, wet and cold and hungry. How would YOU like to be lost?"

"Guess I wouldn't like it at all," admitted the Duchess. "You got somethin' there, maw," agreed Dempsey.

"Gee, I hope they find that cat," said Punch, very subdued.

Well, I hope they find him, too. So here's a request to all good readers living out James Bay way. Please keep your eyes open for Willie.

He's a large, short-hair, gentle, neuter cat, with black whiskers, face, head and body; white stomach, mouth, chin, chest and paws, and a dime-size spot under his chin.

If I know cats, Willie is probably so independent you would never know he's lost.

So, if you see a cat answering that description, please call Mrs. F. Hawkins, 1407 Summit Avenue—telephone E4563. She is very attached to Willie, and has a $50 reward to prove it.

After taking a sniff of the stagnant air in the convention room of the Institute for Provincial Public Health Workers Monday morning, an irreverent delegate remarked: "This should be called the public un-health convention."

Syd Henley of Nanaimo, an earnest amateur gardener who likes to get an early start, was turning the ground over with a fork the other day when he encountered a respectable showing of potatoes.

"Aha!" he cried. "These spuds have indeed wintered well," depending further, he found enough to fill a sizable bucket, all of them in excellent condition.

So he rushed into the house to show his find to Mrs. Henley.

"You march right out and put those back," she cried. "They're the seed potatoes I planted yesterday."

MANAGEMENT EXPERTS TO SEE COUNCIL

City Council will meet with a representative of Stevenson & Kellogg, management engineers, Friday at 10 a.m., on council's proposed job survey at City Hall.

Council wishes to find out how it can increase efficiency and get the most value for the money spent.

At its last meeting it approved hearing the representative, but did not commit itself to the survey.

Meeting as a committee of the whole, the mayor and aldermen will discuss and query what the management engineers can do for the city.

Representatives of firms other than Stevenson & Kellogg may be called in before a decision is made.

Norman Howard, account executive for S. & K., wrote the mayor suggesting an examination, procedures and practices in the accounting and public works department first.

Funeral Thursday

An old-time resident of Victoria will be buried Thursday. Funeral services will be held at McCall Bros. chapel at 2 p.m. for Daniel Campbell, of 586 Atkins Road, who died here Sunday at the age of 80. He had lived in Victoria all his life.

He is survived by his wife, Florence; two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Wale, of Langford, and Mrs. Alvin Morgan of Crescent City, California; two sons, Alexander James and John Donald Campbell, of Victoria; three grandchildren and an aunt, Mrs. Clara Ross, of New Westminster.

The service will be conducted by Rev. J. Stewart and interment will be at Colwood.

Victorian Due Tomorrow From Korean Battlefront

Pte. Roderick A. Perry, son of Mrs. Erith Perry, 794 Hillside, is one of the 265 Canadian soldiers homeward bound from Korea, who disembarked from the U.S. navy transport Gen. H. B. Freeman at Seattle today.

The Canadians immediately boarded buses and trains for home. B.C. residents went by bus to Vancouver, where they were scheduled to arrive at 6:30 p.m., while easterners went direct by train.

They received a gala reception at the pier and along Seattle's "welcome lane," featuring a dance band, singer Kay Stevens, and a group of can-can dancing girls.

Perry who has been in the Far East for a year, will be welcomed here by his mother and his brother, David, who is on leave from Royal Canadian Dragoons at Petawawa. He had his leave extended so he could be here to greet his brother, who will come to Victoria on the night boat.

The Canadians returning today formed the largest unit of troops among the 1,331 passengers, and were also the largest single body of Canadians to return from Korea.

Twenty are from B.C. They are:

Lieut. John Deegan, R.C.I.C., 455 Stevenson Highway, Vancouver; Lieut. Hughie Ray, R.C.I.C., 1918 10th Ave., New Westminster; Cpl. Mitsuhashi, Arizako, R.C.I.C., 610 Davies St., Nelson; Cpl. Robert Christie, R.C.S., 1982 Venables St., Vancouver; Sgt. Arnold Gilbert, R.C.A.S.C., 3115 Normandy Drive, Vancouver; Sgt. John Graham, C.P.C., Vimy Crescent, Vancouver; Sgt. George Hague, R.C.E.M.E., Stevenson; Pte. Mervin G. McCaskell, R.C.I.C., 244 Lorne St., Kamloops; S-Sgt. Otho Mallory, R.C.A.S.C., 4423 Dundas St., Vancouver; Pte. Roy W. Olson, R.C.O.C., 517 3rd Ave., New Westminster; Pte. Ronald E. Pedersen, R.C.I.C., 1530 Varley St., Vancouver; Cpl. Daniel Posylusny, R.C.I.C., 1550 Kitchener St., Vancouver; Pte. Nicholas Rusnak, R.C.I.C., Prince George; Tpr. Rodney C. Schneider, R.C.A.C., R.R. 2, Vancouver; Sgt. Charles H. Snow, R.C.A.M.C., 591 East 13th Ave., Vancouver; Sgmn. Robert G. Sterling, R.C.S., 1210 Robertson Ave., Nelson; Pte. Charles T. Watson, R.C.E.M.E., 1142 Keith Road, East Vancouver; Pte. Ernest L. Sernole, R.C.I.C., Box 2179 Penitence.

June Voting To Cost B.C. Record Sum

British Columbia's June 12 general election will be the most expensive in the province's history. It is estimated the election will cost the province about $600,000.

Election expenses in 1949 ran around $450,000 to $500,000.

One of the biggest costs will be in connection with the new alternative voting system to be used in B.C. for the first time in this election.

The government is expected to spend between $50,000 and $75,000 in a large advertising campaign aimed at educating the public on the new voting plan.

General election expenses also will increase because the number of voters has increased from 694,000 in 1949 to an estimated 750,000 this year.

Fees paid deputy returning officers and poll clerks probably will be raised for the June election. They were increased for the Esquimalt by-election.

A deputy returning officer is expected to be paid $12.50, compared to the previous fee of $10, and a poll clerk $10 instead of $7.50.

Returning officers are paid anything from $500 to $2,000, depending on the amount of work involved.

In addition to the ordinary voting expenses, this year's election will feature two plebiscites—on liquor and daylight saving. This, too, will add to the overall expense.

The government plans to mail to British Columbians 300,000 pamphlets, explaining the alternative voting system. Also, time will be bought for radio broadcasts, and movie houses will carry "shorts" on the same subject.

The voters' list closes April 30, and nominations close May 22.

Cedar Hill chapter of Saanich Municipal Voters' Association will hold a regular meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Mount Tolle C.C.F. Hall.

Coroner Hart Manslaughter Trial Witness

Injuries received by Mrs. Victor W. Jopp in a two-car head-on smash last July 25 on Sooke Road, near Colwood Corner, probably caused death instantaneously, Dr. E. C. Hart told an Assize Court jury today.

The venerable Victoria coroner was one of the first witnesses called by the Crown at the hearing of Carl H. Baillie, 730 Vancouver Street, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death.

Dr. Hart, who identified himself as Victoria's coroner "off and on since 1898," gave evidence that Mrs. Jopp's body was horribly mangled.

R.C.M.P. Constable Gordon A. MacFarland, who attended at the scene, told of finding the body of Mrs. Jopp and the unconscious form of her husband tangled together in the back of the car in which they were passengers.

He identified Baillie as the man he found pinned behind the wheel of the other car involved. Baillie sat quietly in the prisoner's box during the opening of the hearing and followed evidence closely.

W. Berkeley Monteith is acting for the Crown in the case. George Gregory is defense attorney.

The case is continuing.

A poetry recital will be presented at a meeting of the Victoria and Island Branch, Canadian Authors' Association, to be held at the Moss Street Art Centre at 8 p.m. Thursday. Mrs. Clara Hill Maunsell will be in the chair. The public is invited.

LOCAL SINGER WINS MENTION

John Dunbar, Victoria baritone, who sang in the semi-finals of "Singing Stars of Tomorrow" over C.B.C.'s Dominion network on Sunday, has been awarded an honorable mention by the adjudicators.

His wife received a telegram with the news this morning. Dunbar will return to Victoria at the end of this week.

OF SHIPS AND MEN

Seamen Trust Island Stevedores

By MONTE ROBERTS
Times Marine Reporter

Victoria's stevedores were busy over the weekend. They worked on Good Friday, and were at it again Sunday, both at Ogden Point and Cowichan Bay, so the ships of the world's trading nations will get the fast turn-around they've come to expect in these ports.

Victoria's longshore gangs are among the few willing to work holidays—at extra pay, naturally—to keep the port traffic moving.

And this is as good a time as any to record the fact that they are the equal of any gangs in any port in the world and better than most.

That statement isn't based on this reporter's own limited experience; it's what the masters of blue water ships tell us. When you get a deep-sea skipper to admit he's happy with the way his cargo is stowed, you can be sure the longshoremen know their stuff.

The word "stevedore," if you're interested, is from the Latin "Stipare," to compress, and it is indeed an apt description of long-shore activity.

You can't do much about "compressing" a load of lumber, but it's amazing how many extra feet you can get aboard if you know what you're about.

Tight stowage is not only useful and profitable from the shipowner's viewpoint—it's vital for the safety of the ship.

Shipmasters we've talked with have few worries about the kind of job done by Empire Stevedoring and Canadian Stevedoring in Port of Victoria.

Now we can start talking about the present-day Cougars on the basis of quantity of players and not quality. They are built on modern lines, three forward lines and four defencemen. They fly at full speed for brief moments and then go to the sidelines for rests. They change on the go if the play is sustained and there is no whistle.

Cougars swept through to win with ease. In the fourth and final game the Cougars swamped Canadians by 6-1, in probably the most one-sided game ever seen in the Stanley Cup series.

From that moment on the tempo of hockey was speeded up. Every major league club developed two forward lines of equal, or near-equal strength. Today the pace has been accelerated so much that clubs carry three forward lines and two pairs of defense-men, plus three reserve men.

Then, before Canadians knew what was going on, a fresh line of forwards was facing them and the change had been made without anyone noticing it. That was the first time changing players on the fly was introduced and it was another of those smart plays which the "Silver Fox" Lester Patrick gave to hockey.

Canadians could do nothing about it. They could not meet the unexpected move and the

Dean G. R. Calvert says "goodbye."

HELD IN HIGH ESTEEM

Churchman Is Honored By City Parishioners

Proof of the high esteem in which Dean G. R. Calvert is held in the church and community life of this city was shown Monday night when a large gathering of Cathedral parishioners and friends met to bid him farewell. He leaves here today.

Dean Calvert has been appointed Bishop of Calgary, and will be elevated in that city on April 25.

Seated on the platform of the Memorial Hall, which was filled to capacity, were Dean Calvert, Mrs. Calvert and their daughter Betty.

With them were Bishop H. E. Sexton, Col. H. F. Webber, Mrs. J. D. Hunter and Dr. F. T. Fahey, chairman.

During the evening Colonel Webber, on behalf of the people of the congregation, presented the bishop-elect with his robes of office—white, scarlet, and black chimers, purple cassock and cap.

His episcopate ring is being given to him by the people of St. Matthew's Church, Winnipeg, where the Dean ministered before coming to Victoria three years ago. A smaller ring was given to him by Miss Kathleen Agnew, set with an amethyst, which had belonged to her late mother.

GIFT OF FAMILY
The pectoral cross of silver set with amethyst was given to the Dean by his wife and daughter.

A beautifully bound hymn book, suitably inscribed, was given to the Dean by members of the choir. The presentation was made by Capt. W. Ord.

Gifts were also presented to Mrs. Calvert. Mrs. J. D. Hunter, on behalf of the church committee, presented her with a handsome inscribed wrist watch, and the Woman's Parish Guild, through Miss K. Jaffray, gave her an embroidered linen cloth. Miss Nora Hughes, representing the choir, presented Mrs. Calvert with an arm bouquet of spring blossoms.

Bishop H. E. Sexton paid tribute to the Dean and spoke very highly of his valuable work in this city. He wished him well in the new responsibilities he has undertaken.

A musical program was rendered by the choir, under the direction of the organist, Graham Steed, assisted by A. Miller. Soloists were Mrs. H. Sherratt and Mrs. F. J. Kneiff.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served in the flower-decked gymnasium by the Woman's Parish Guild, assisted by members of the W.A. and A.Y.P.A. Miss K. Jaffray and Mrs. M. H. French were in charge of arrangements.

Socreds Nominating Candidates Tonight

Social Credit groups of Victoria will nominate candidates for this constituency tonight.

Delegates from the three city groups gather at Williams Hall, Broughton Street, at 8 p.m.

Three candidates are to be elected, assuring a four-way fight in the June 12 election.

FIRST CLASS
All of which means that we are being given first-class entertainment. I can't recall ever being more pleased over a sports engagement than last year when Portland and Victoria played their dramatic series. We had some very hectic and thrilling moments in the series this year between Victoria and New Westminster and the game Saturday night between Saskatoon and the Cougars was in the super class.

In the over-all picture the present-day Cougars, by their play, which, at times, had all the earmarks of being dizzy, have provided me with more after-game headaches than any other club. Perhaps that is because of my advancing age.

Isn't it nice, though, to think that we have the opportunity to see such good entertainment today. There are only two reasons for it... 1. The Memorial Arena; 2. Lester Patrick. Perhaps we might resolve to stop knocking both of them, although I know both can take it.

What about referees? I see little difference—everyone wants to murder them still.

What about the fans? I see little difference in them either. Most of them, like me, are still crazy about hockey.

An Expert's View—Today's Cougars Give More Speed, Thrills, But Not Class of Victoria's Old-Timers

By ARCHIE WILLS

(Mr. Wills, retired managing editor of the Times, and sports editor in the days when Victoria's first Cougars won the world championship Stanley Cup 27 years ago, was asked to write his views of the current hockey playoff by the modern version of the Cougars. More than a quarter century ago Mr. Wills was recognized as one of Canada's top hockey writers and experts. In the following article he compares the old-timers and the new team.)

Comparing the products of this generation—whether they be children or school curricula, adults or entertainment, athletes or carpenters—is one certain way to start an argument. It can become just as violent as it can become useless.

Too often the old-timer, thinking of his 'twenties when he was strong, ambitious and, perhaps, reckless, says: "Them was the days." He thinks everything that happened then was better and greater than at any time since. One thing he forgets, he's slipping.

But when comparing the two editions of Victoria Cougars as assembled by Lester Patrick, the 1925 world's champions and holders of the Stanley Cup, and the team which is now engaged in combat with the Saskatoon Quakers, we must be honest.

As far as quality goes the two Victoria teams were not in the same league. The 1925 Cougars were a major league club and generally regarded as the best 10-man team ever assembled.

Today's Cougars are a minor league club and not one of them could catch a place and hold it at this moment on a National Hockey League team.

MORE PLAYERS

In one particular department, however, and it is a very important one, today's Cougars have a distinct edge on the world's champions. They have player strength. They have 17 men on their roster and stir 15 for a game. This means that the speed of play can be maintained at a fast clip throughout a game and injuries do not hamstring a club like they did in the old days.

As a matter-of-fact it was the initiative of Lester Patrick back in 1925, which changed the pace of hockey and which brought about the defeat of Canadians in the world's series. It required something like that for a team in this city of 50,000 people, to whip a club backed by the wealth of Montreal and including as players the hockey greats, Howie Morenz, Auriel Joliat and Georges Vezina.

"IRON MAN" DAYS

It was the practice of Canadians to play their best six men about 55 minutes out of the 60 minutes. Their forward line was made up of Morenz, Joliat and Billy Boucher. True, they had a second forward line, but, as can be imagined, the coach had little confidence in it in view of the recognized ability of his first string. Momentarily, one of the stars would be pulled for a rest, and a "substitute," as they were called in those days, would get a fleeting chance to show his stuff.

Lester was well aware of Canadians' system, and he decided to skate them to death. He developed two forward lines, one centered by the smooth-skating

Frank Fredrickson and the other by the crafty Frank Foyston. Oh, if the present Cougars could only pick up a couple of Franks like those two boys! Their troubles in front of the net would be over.

The first game of the 1925 series started out with some wild bursts of speed by Morenz and smart passing plays by Joliat, Boucher and Morenz.

LESTER OUTSMARTED 'EM
Then, before Canadians knew what was going on, a fresh line of forwards was facing them and the change had been made without anyone noticing it. That was the first time changing players on the fly was introduced and it was another of those smart plays which the "Silver Fox" Lester Patrick gave to hockey.

Canadians could do nothing about it. They could not meet the unexpected move and the Cougars swept through to win with ease. In the fourth and final game the Cougars swamped Canadians by 6-1, in probably the most one-sided game ever seen in the Stanley Cup series.

From that moment on the tempo of hockey was speeded up. Every major league club developed two forward lines of equal, or near-equal strength. Today the pace has been accelerated so much that clubs carry three forward lines and two pairs of defense-men, plus three reserve men.

Now we can start talking about the present-day Cougars on the basis of quantity of players and not quality. They are built on modern lines, three forward lines and four defencemen. They fly at full speed for brief moments and then go to the sidelines for rests. They change on the go if the play is sustained and there is no whistle.

Cougars swept through to win with ease. In the fourth and final game the Cougars swamped Canadians by 6-1, in probably the most one-sided game ever seen in the Stanley Cup series.

Exchange Nuptial Vows In Service at Colwood

Blush pink Alencon lace over taffeta created the bridal gown worn by Muriel Ellen Gummeson when she exchanged wedding vows with Herbert Watson Kerr at a recent service in St. John's Church, Colwood, Rev. H. J. Jones officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Wilfrid Gibson, Colwood, and late G. H. Gummeson, and the groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Kerr, Telkwa, B.C.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Gibson, complemented her gown with a bouquet of spring flowers. It was styled with ballerina-length skirt and the fitted bodice was topped with a bolero jacket. A calot of pink petals held her shoulder-length veil.

Bridesmaid, Miss Elsie Kerr, sister of the groom, wore a ballerina-length gown in heaven blue net and lace with bolero jacket. She wore a matching floral hat and nylon gloves.

J. Edwin Leggett, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man and ushers were Edward Gibson and Harry Leggett.

J. H. Flatman was organist and Mrs. G. Flatman sang "O Perfect Love," during the signing of the register.

Daffodils were predominant at the reception in the home of the bride's parents, "Pinewood Cottage," Colwood. Herbert Ramsbottom proposed the toast.

Following a honeymoon up-Island, the couple will make their home in Telkwa.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Household Aluminum Foil Has Dozens of Handy Uses

By PENNY SAVER

Where have I been? Every once in a while I come to with a start and wonder how on earth I've missed a particular item that is brought to my attention.

Take this household aluminum foil, for instance. It's been around for some time, but I didn't realize its worth before. Now that I do I can hardly wait to tell you about it. Chances are you may be using it and not getting the full benefit out of it.

First of all, if you haven't been introduced to the aluminum foil before, you'll want to know that it comes in a roll, 25 feet long and 12 inches wide. This will cost you 42 pennies.

It is a perfect wrap for storing and cooking food. If you are careful in the way you fold it you can seal the air out and keep the moisture. I know when I wrap cauliflower or cabbage in it, place it in boiling water to cook, there are no cooking odors at all.

Three Things to Remember

Aluminum foil saves food, saves money and stops shrinkage! It is of special weight designed for general household use in protecting foods for refrigeration, and in cooking. Is non-toxic, non-absorbent and non-porous.

Keep in mind also, that it is economical to use because it preserves foods longer; reduces loss or waste; reduces shrinkage; and after simple washing, may be used over and over again, as it does not absorb or carry odors or flavors.

Scientists and home economists have judged it the perfect food wrap. They have assured that when foods are wrapped properly (air tight) they retain their natural flavor, odor, texture and content. The moisture is sealed in, air and light sealed out.

Bacteria mold and rancidity, enemies of all foods are slowed up to keep food fresh and edible longer.

Save foods—save money.

Y.W.C.A. ACTIVITIES

Spring Tea—Mrs. Frances Munroe will convene Y.W.C.A. Overseas Wives spring tea to be held at the association's clubrooms on Saturday from 2 to 4. Miss Gardiner, executive director; Mrs. Campbell Small, program committee chairman, and Mrs. Dorothy Brain have been invited to preside at the tea. There will also be home cooking and apron stalls. Proceeds will be halved between local charities and a fund for sending "Care" package to needy people in Britain.

Tennis coaching classes will begin early in May and program department is now accepting registrations.

Easter Tones Complement Bride's Gown

Traditional Easter colors of yellow and mauve were worn by the two bridal attendants of Myrna Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Haggart, when she exchanged nuptial vows Saturday evening with Albert Charles Palmer, Linden Avenue. Groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer, Chilliwack.

Rev. George Biddle officiated in St. John's Anglican Church amidst a setting of Easter lilies and daffodils. Pews were decorated with white hyacinths and green foliage.

Organist was F. Chubb and "O, Perfect Love" was sung by Miss Madonna McCabe.

Mr. Haggart gave his daughter in marriage. She wore white nylon with velvet embroidered flower over a taffeta-crinoline underskirt. Enchanting the sweetheart neckline was a necklace of brilliant. The gown had lily point sleeves and tiny covered buttons down the back. Billowing from a pearl-studded headpiece was a finger-tip veil outlined with Chantilly lace and the bride carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Jo Kummer, maid of honor, wore yellow taffeta with net overskirt. The net-trimmed bodice had a tiny taffeta bolero. Flowers in her headpiece matched her bouquet of cascade bouquet of spring flowers.

Miss Janice Ray came from Seattle to be junior bridesmaid for her cousin. Her mauve gown was styled similarly to that of the maid of honor and her headpiece also matched her bouquet.

Bill Krul was best man and Ray Haggart, brother of the bride, and Stan Thompson were ushers.

Tulips and daffodils centred each table at the reception which was held at Williams Hall, Broughton Street. Frank Morgan proposed the toast to his niece.

A pale blue worsted suit accented with navy topcoat, red accessories and navy hat with red trim, were donned by the bride for a honeymoon to Portland, Oregon. A gardenia composed her corsage.

Mrs. W. J. Clark To Arrange Flowers

Tying in with many flower shows and with garden week in May a lecture and demonstration of flower arrangements for the home will be given by Mrs. W. J. Clark Thursday from 2:30 to 4:30 at Loughheed's Banquet Club, 1406 Douglas Street.

Illustrating several types of arrangements, including modern, formal, informal and Victorian, this lecture will be sponsored by ladies' auxiliary of the United Commercial Travelers.

Proceeds will be used to further the club's many charities, one being upkeep of a cottage at Sunshine Camp, Sooke.

St. Mark's Easter Tea

Canon C. W. Downer will open the St. Mark's Woman's Auxiliary and Guild Easter tea and sale of work Wednesday at 2:30. There will be a selection of useful articles for sale on fancy work, candy, apron, home cooking and plant stall. Tea will be served.

Between Ourselves

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Bill Walker, our sports editor, took me up to the press box in Victoria Memorial Arena last night (much against his will I may tell you for he said "females" were not allowed up there).

He introduced me to several newspaper men, showed me where I was to sit (behind a pillar); drew out "see you later," and started out the narrow door.

"Hey! Wait a minute," I called after him. Aren't you going to stay here?" "Nothing doing!" he came back at me. "You're on your own! Good-bye!"

This time he did walk out. But poked his head back to say, "Here's Denny—he'll take care of you."

Scrappy Denny Boyd, our assistant sports editor, looked at Walker, at me, at the other newspaper men. Raised an eyebrow, shrugged his shoulders. Said nothing. There was an uneasy sort of silence. Erwin Swangard of the Vancouver Sun looked at me with that expression you see sometimes on men's faces when they are thinking, "Women! What will they do next?"

Can McKenzie, Saskatoon-Star-Phoenix (and as handsome as our own Bill Walker) had a look you could read as "what is the Times up to now?"

Jim Tang, sports editor of the Colonist and his boss, Tim Matson were whispering in a corner and I had a feeling they might take off any minute to find their social editor just to keep the records even.

Bill Stephenson of CKDA and BUP, walked in. Denny introduced me. He walked right out again.

The Canadian Press man was tinkering with his telegraph keys in the corner. (His name is Bill Walker, by the way.) Denny introduced me. He said "Hi!" and went back to his work.

Down below, the loudspeaker started on the line-ups. "Best sit down," Swangard said.

I slid in behind the pillar. There was a general sigh of relief. Everyone else sat down, too.

Jim Tang was at one end of the box. Next came his managing editor, Fred Barnes (just along for the ride). Swangard, Stephenson (who had returned with coke in a paper cup) myself, McKenzie and the CP Bill Walker.

Fred Hutchinson, Cougar general manager, Denny Boyd and several others I never did meet, stood behind the chairs.

Concentrate on Game—No Small Talk

The lights dimmed. The strains of "O Canada" rang out. We all got to our feet. Then scrambled back as the game began. From then on it was every man for himself. No women allowed.

Tang lit a cigar which he chewed down to a lone half inch by the end of the period. Swangard worried a pencil back and forth in his hands. Stephenson enjoyed his coke. McKenzie lit a cigarette after another. Smoked 'em, too. The CP man clattered away at his keys.

They watched the game intently. Ignored me. "Strongman's playing a good game, isn't he?" I said to Stephenson's shoulder, on my left.

The shoulder moved a little higher. "H-m-m! Nice save, Cotnor!" he murmured. I looked. Cotnor was sprawled on the ice.

"Good save, Cotnor!" I whispered, too. Stephenson scribbled frantically. Whipped the page over quickly, took a gulp of his coke and finally looked directly at me.

"Strongman's playing well," I said again. He looked pained. "Cotnor!" he said.

McKenzie was on my right. I nudged his arm and said, "I think Strongman plays a good game, don't you?" McKenzie merely grunted and murmured, "Bentley!"

"I still like Strongman!" I grunted right back at him. Mr. Hutchinson leaned over my shoulder to watch a Cougar play.

"Mr. Hutchinson," I said, "don't you think Strongman is playing a steady game in this playoff series?"

But Hutchinson had his eyes closed. Play had swung quickly to the Cougar end. The puck was loose. Cotnor alone. Goegan skated in and saved.

Hutchinson opened his eyes. Looked at me with a wild stare. "Strongman?" I said.

"That's Goegan!" he told me. Tang was busy writing a lead for a wire story. The CP man was clattering away at his keys. Denny Boyd wouldn't talk.

"Well anyway," I muttered, "I think Strongman is playing a good game!"

Press Box Quietest Spot in Rink

Just then, I looked at the big clock, which—from the press box—is right on a level with your eyes. It was 17:08.

Saskatoon had the puck. They chased it down the ice. Cougars missed. Alex Kaleta scored on a pass from Neil Strain.

There were mutters in the press box. Pleasant ones on my right as McKenzie scribbled frantically. Disgusted ones on my left and at my back.

In the next two minutes I tried one more question on McKenzie. "Who do you think is the fastest man on the Saskatoon team?"

He looked at me. Opened his eyes wide. Said, "Oh-h-h! I really don't know!"

Well, Mr. McKenzie! (And for your information I've chosen No. 10 on the Saskatoon team, George Senick.)

"One period," sports editor Walker had said, "Just one period! Remember!"

So, when the horn blew, I got out from behind my pillar. Said good-bye.

No one heard me. Everyone was scribbling like crazy. Denny Boyd said—"G-o-o-d-bye!" That's all.

And if you think there's excitement, arguments, differences of opinion, or even enthusiastic shouting in the press box, you're wrong. It's the quietest, most sedate spot in the whole arena.

At least, it was during the first period last night. Why, I didn't even hear a good rousing "damn!" But then—maybe they were warned!

Recent Bridal Couple Piped From St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church

Mr. and Mrs. Robert James Patterson who were married recently in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church were piped from the vestry to the strains of "Highland Wedding," by Pipe Major James McMillan.

The bride is the former Alexandra (Ina) Masson-Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson, Kings Road, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, Sydney Mines, N.S.

Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiated.

Standard baskets of daffodils, tulips and plum blossoms decorated the church. Heather, tied with Robertson tartan ribbon, marked the guests' pews.

During the signing of the register Vera Barclay sang "Because," accompanied by C. C. Warren.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin featuring lily-point sleeves and jewel neckline with nylon net insert trimmed with French lace. Her veil of French illusion net edged with French lace was caught to a coronet of seed pearls and cascaded to the full train of the gown. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls and matching earrings. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white heather.

Mrs. R. Bentley, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She chose a strapless gown of orchid moire taffeta featuring scalloped waistline and full skirt. She wore matching mitts and carried a cascade bouquet.

The bride's younger sisters, Grace and Jean Robertson, were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of apple green and yellow taffeta with off-the-shoulder neckline, tight-fitting bodices and scalloped waistline. They carried cascade bouquets of white carnations and yellow iris and wore bandeaux of feathered carnations and iris.

John Robertson, brother of the bride, was best man and ushers were George Robertson, also a brother of the bride, and Bill Griffin.

At the reception in the home of the bride's parents the bridal party received guests beneath an arch of spring flowers and ferns. The bride's table was covered with a cut-work cloth and was centred with a three-tier cake topped with sweetheart roses and heather. Red roses were tucked in the plumosa fern at the base of the cake. Silver candlesticks with white candles also decorated the table. Alex Robertson, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast. The couple are motoring through the States to the home of the groom's parents where they will stay for several months before returning to Victoria to make their home.

For her going-away ensemble the bride wore a gabardine suit of dusty rose topped with a three-quarter-length shortie coat of winter white with grey accessories and grey lizard shoes. The bride's ensemble was complemented with a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Lu-Ann Armstrong-Dick Praul Wed in Anglican Cathedral

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Praul, who were married in Christ Church Cathedral Saturday evening by Dean G. R. Calvert, will make their home in Kennewick, Wash., following a honeymoon up-island.

The bride is the former Lucille Annette Armstrong, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Armstrong, Linden Avenue, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Anna Praul, Burlington, N.J.

During the service Mr. Steed, organist, played Handel's "Water Music."

G. W. Welch gave the bride in marriage. She wore a ballerina-length gown of white embossed organza with ermine-trimmed skirt. It was styled with short sleeves and the bodice was buttoned down the front accented with a Peter Pan collar. Her veil of white illusion net misted to chapel length.

Mrs. Ruth Armstrong, mother of the bride, wore a two-piece blue dress with navy straw hat and a corsage of full-blown pink roses.

Her grandmother, Mrs. John Irwin, who also received guests, wore a grey-blue dress trimmed with grey beading and a grey straw hat with corsage of gardenias.

Jack Parker and Robert Irwin were ushers.

A three-tier wedding cake made by the aunt and godmother of the bride, Mrs. Volney Cope, Calgary, centred the bride's table at the reception in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel. Victor Gilbert proposed the toast.

Upon leaving for her honeymoon the bride wore a pale pink gabardine suit with navy accessories.

Quarter-Million Fans Expected in Majors

A turnout of 250,000 fans was expected at baseball parks in eight cities today to listen to the cry of "play ball" as the 1952 major league season officially opened.

Despite the loss and impending loss of such topnotch performers as Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Bobby Doerr, Gerry Coleman, Bobby Doerr, Willie Mays and others, the new season gave promise of new thrills and excitement to match those of previous campaigns. Nearly all clubs were dotted with new faces and many of them appeared in the line-up today.

A majority of the experts and the odds-makers installed Cleveland Indians 9-10-5 favorites to win the American League pennant, with the Yankees second choice at 2 to 1. In the National League the Brooklyn Dodgers were also 9-10-5 favorites and New York Giants, 2 to 1.

President Harry S. Truman, the only switch hurler since William Howard Taft started the presidential pitching custom in 1910, was to throw out the first ball in Washington where the Senators engaged the Red Sox.

The day's largest crowd of some 52,000, including Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, was expected to attend the Tigers-Browns opener in Detroit.

On the board at William E. Rouse, chairman, Edward McKinty for the builders, and R. M. Strachan, carpenters' nominee.

Carpenters are asking for a pay increase of 75 cents per hour for a rate of $2.50, plus 4 per cent holiday pay instead of the 2 per cent they now receive.

Quarter-Million Fans Expected in Majors

A turnout of 250,000 fans was expected at baseball parks in eight cities today to listen to the cry of "play ball" as the 1952 major league season officially opened.

Despite the loss and impending loss of such topnotch performers as Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Bobby Doerr, Gerry Coleman, Bobby Doerr, Willie Mays and others, the new season gave promise of new thrills and excitement to match those of previous campaigns. Nearly all clubs were dotted with new faces and many of them appeared in the line-up today.

A majority of the experts and the odds-makers installed Cleveland Indians 9-10-5 favorites to win the American League pennant, with the Yankees second choice at 2 to 1. In the National League the Brooklyn Dodgers were also 9-10-5 favorites and New York Giants, 2 to 1.

President Harry S. Truman, the only switch hurler since William Howard Taft started the presidential pitching custom in 1910, was to throw out the first ball in Washington where the Senators engaged the Red Sox.

The day's largest crowd of some 52,000, including Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, was expected to attend the Tigers-Browns opener in Detroit.

BELGRADE, April 15 (AP)—"council of Liberation" with hosti

The bizarre escape route was discovered last summer when four of the defendants were spotted in their cramped hideouts by frontier guards near Trieste. It was not disclosed how many others, suspected of escaping before the ruse was discovered.

Details of the careful plan were disclosed during the four-day trial.

The escapees would crawl into the boxes during the confusion of making up the midnight train at Belgrade station and an accomplice would bolt them in. They carried a jug of wine and the men kept drinking from coughing during the two-day journey. Another accomplice waited at Paris to pry them out.

The prosecution charged the defendants belonged to a "Coun-

Tacoma Pressmen Continue Strike

TACOMA, Wash., April 14 (AP)—A pressman's strike against the Tacoma News Tribune left this city of 143,000 without a newspaper for the straight day Monday.

No negotiations were Monday in the wage dispute between the union and the newspaper members of the International Web Pressmen's Union.

Publisher Frank S. Baker said other unions were not as militant as the pressmen. He said they had attempted to picket lines and that the attempt would be made under present conditions to maintain continuous publication.

B.C. Teachers To Be Trained At University

VANCOUVER, April 15 (CP).—Education Minister W. T. Straith said Monday teacher training will become an integral part of the University of British Columbia curriculum starting in September, 1953.

He told the 600 delegates to the annual convention of the B.C. Teachers' Federation the provincial cabinet has approved the move toward "centralized teacher training," and all that remains to make it official is approval by the U.B.C. senate.

He said the change will mean closing and sale of the Vancouver Normal School. Victoria Normal School would continue to operate, but it would be affiliated with the U.B.C.-administered—Victoria College.

TWO YEARS' WORK
Teachers would obtain their first and second year curriculums there towards their Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Education degrees.

Grants now received by the two provincial normal schools will go to the university and will be increased.

A new faculty of education will be set up to be administered by a joint U.B.C.-department of education board.

Fees will be lower than those now in effect at U.B.C. The minister explained that provision for funds and suitable accommodation will not permit the plan to begin operation before September next year.

He pointed out that progress in the past has been hampered by the fear of a teacher shortage. To guard against this in the future, he said, teachers—if they wish—can withdraw from the course at the end of the first and second years and "receive special certification for elementary school teaching."

"The new system," he said "is designed to encourage teachers to advance their training and receive recognition they have never received before."

Consecration Of New Bishop Here April 27
Consecration of a new Bishop of the Yukon will take place at Christ Church Cathedral April 27. Rev. Tom Greenwood, rector of Holy Trinity Church, Yellowknife, N.W.T., will become Bishop of the Yukon at a consecration service to be conducted by Rt. Rev. Harold E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia.

Archbishop Walter Adams and Bishop Arthur Sovereign, both former bishops of the Yukon, will present Mr. Greenwood for the consecration.

The bishop-elect of the Yukon was born in Yorkshire, England, and christened Tom, not Thomas. In 1922 he entered the Church Army, and for four years, 1925 to 1929, he worked in the United States, assisting in the development of the American Church Army.

Straith Defends B.C. Educational System; Scores Separate School Plan

VANCOUVER, April 15 (CP).—Education Minister W. T. Straith tonight defended British Columbia's education policies and condemned the separate school system.

"I would not wish to administer the department of education under any but our present system," he told delegates to the annual convention of the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

He said he was bringing up the subject "since the question of separate schools came into prominence a year ago with the novel situation at Maillardville."

He was referring to the closing of the two Roman Catholic schools at the community near New Westminster. The Catholic school board said it did not have funds to carry on and the 480 students were absorbed into the public school system.

The Roman Catholic Church maintains the provincial government should recognize Catholic schools, and contribute to their construction and operation.

The government contends that public schools are open to children of all religious faiths and if parents want to send their children to private schools, no matter of what denomination, they must pay for this directly rather than through a share of public taxation.

Closing of the two schools hinged on bus transportation. Roman Catholics claimed that bus transportation to and from schools should be provided free, as it is for public school students.

The government replied that the Public Schools Act stipulates that only public school students may be carried in school buses.

Mr. Straith tonight quoted a statement by Dr. B. Conant, Harvard University president, that a "dual system of education could threaten the democratic unity of the public school system."

"I must say that I approve of every word of Dr. Conant's statement," he said.

"The trend on this democratic continent is against any change in our system of public schools," he said.

Union, Timbermen Open Negotiations

Wage negotiations between the International Woodworkers of America (C.C.L.-C.I.O.) and West Coast lumber operators opened today in Vancouver.

The negotiations are expected to continue for some time before a new wage scale is set for the more than 25,000 men for which the union bargains.

I.W.A. representatives are asking a 35-cent-an-hour increase and a cost-of-living bonus which would boost the basic rate of pay to $1.78 an hour.

The union is also seeking pay for statutory holidays, a health and welfare plan, union shop, seniority recognition, travel allowances and a guaranteed minimum wage scale.

The problem was ...PAIN

The answer is DISPRIN

For 50 years we have used little white tablets—acetylsalicylic acid—for relief of pain. Today this familiar pain-killer is available in a new form without the disadvantages of acidity, insolubility and bitter taste. It is called DISPRIN and is sold at druggists everywhere.

DISPRIN is soluble and substantially neutral. When taken in water as recommended, it enters the stomach as a true solution and not as undissolved particles. It is therefore less liable to cause stomach discomfort.

DISPRIN is readily absorbed. Because it definitely dissolves (not merely disintegrates) DISPRIN permits speedy absorption and gives quicker relief.

DISPRIN is palatable. Even children will take it readily.

Science steps forward with DISPRIN FOR PAIN RELIEF

Sidney, Saanich Ask Review of Bus Schedules

SIDNEY, April 15.—Bus service problems in North Saanich will be aired tonight at 8.30 at a public meeting in St. Andrew's Hall, to be attended by Vancouver Island Coach Lines officials. Sponsors will be Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce.

A. R. Alexander, chairman of the chamber's transportation committee, will ask the bus line officials if they plan to make changes to give Central and North Saanich service for shopping, hospital visiting and evening recreation.

He will also seek the company's attitude toward feeder services, and how it has met similar problems in other communities.

Cleaning Fluid Said Responsible for Death

SEATTLE, April 15 (AP).—A Seattle woman's doctors have attributed her death to the after-effects of cleaning solvent fumes. Mrs. Gertrude Murphy Dolan, 46, died Saturday after a 12-day illness. Her doctors said Monday that her illness, which developed into uremic poisoning, apparently was caused by carbon tetrachloride fumes.

Men Who Make News Abroad to Hear First-Hand Account of Home Sports

Canadian troops in Japan and Korea will get a first-hand account of highlights of the past year in Canadian sports.

Reporters are Doug Smith of Montreal, Henry Vinay of Calgary, William Good of Vancouver and Tom Foley of Ottawa. They leave Vancouver April 25 for a two-week illustrated talking tour.

Maj. Gen. Chris Vokes, C.B.E., D.S.O., senior officer in Western Army Command, will review local reserve units at a mass inspection May 20 in Beacon Hill Park. It is believed to be the first mass inspection of this type held in Victoria. Bands of the various units will be in attendance.

SNIPES FOR PRIZES

Work started during the holiday to prepare H.M.C.S. Malahat's sailing snipe for races with the Royal Canadian Naval Sailing Association in Esquimalt Harbor next week-end. Cmdr. J. S. Davis is commodore of the sailing group.

Wren Finola Duke of Malahat Division will shortly leave for a four-month stay in England. She hopes to complete her basic training at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis later in the year.

Men Who Make News Abroad to Hear First-Hand Account of Home Sports

Monthly shoot for Malahat rifle team will be held Wednesday night at H.M.C.S. Malahat range between 1930 and 2200 hours. The team is in competition with 22 other reserve divisions in Canada.

LOOKING FOR AWARD

Capt. R. Jackson, Malahat's commanding officer, is clamping down on "non-attendance" at weekly drills. He says that from now on members who do not attend will have to come up with a pretty good excuse.

Malahat is competing for a beautiful silver model of a destroyer-escort. It goes to the Canadian naval division scoring the highest points in a contest involving attendance, general efficiency, sports activity, civic relations, and other matters.

NAMES WANTED

Members of the 13th Field Ambulance (Victoria army reserve) who wish to attend a training exercise with Vancouver's 12th ambulance unit May 31 and June 1 are asked to submit their names immediately. Exercise will be held at Pitt Meadows on the mainland.

Victoria will be the meeting place for reserve and active artillery officers from across the nation sometime in June, according to current reports. Details on the conference are meagre. The officers will undoubtedly compare notes on artillery matters and general training. Tactical schemes may be involved.

Alexander May Ask Briton as Ike Successor

LONDON, April 15 (CP).—Field Marshal Alexander's flying visit to Paris today was described by a defense ministry spokesman here as "just a routine trip by a new man on the job."

But the spokesman said it would not be surprising if Britain's newly-appointed defense minister took the opportunity, in the course of his meetings with Dwight D. Eisenhower, to present this country's views on the general's successor.

The Daily Express said in a front-page dispatch today that Lord Alexander will "press the claims of Viscount Montgomery" to replace Gen. Eisenhower when the latter leaves his post as Atlantic Pact commander to enter the United States presidential race.

It has been generally taken for granted here that an American will succeed Gen. Eisenhower, with his deputy Gen. Gruenther regarded as perhaps the most probable appointment. Prime Minister Winston Churchill said in the House of Commons recently that if the United States wanted the post for an American general it should be conceded.

DORIS HART SCORES

Important Child Clean Teeth Well

Dentists find convincing proof every day that there is a direct bearing on tooth decay depending how well the teeth are cleaned.

Brushing the teeth should not be a haphazard dabbing. The child should be taught to brush his teeth up and down—thoroughly—immediately after meals to avoid food particles building up bacteria.

One reason for a child's dislike of brushing his teeth or not taking sufficient time to do a good job is the type of toothpaste. Harsh flavour, soap and grittiness is distasteful to the child.

There is a new dentifrice widely recommended, Fluoradene, the Fluorinated Toothpaste with Chlorophyll. Children are particularly fond of Fluoradene because of its pale green colour, gentle, clean taste and lack of soap.

Children do a more effective job of brushing because they like the toothpaste. You will only find Fluoradene in drug stores because it is a pharmaceutical preparation.

TRUMAN TO FLY FOR FLOOD RELIEF PARLEY

A Stranger in Our Midst

"Cute, isn't it?" says Kathleen Collins, as she feeds orphan coyote, trapped on Saanich Road today, a lump of sugar. Presumption is the pup escaped from his captors, as game officials say there are no coyote residents on the island. Game Warden J. Jones trapped coyote, now at Elliott Street office of game department. It will be kept alive and displayed at museum.

Wanger Makes Odd Move in Shooting Trial

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April 15 (AP).—In a five-minute court session, film producer Walter Wanger sidestepped trial today in the shooting of his wife's agent.

The handsome, silver-haired producer threw himself on the mercy of the court by agreeing to submit his case on the basis of testimony at a grand jury hearing at which he did not testify. Neither did his wife, actress Joan Bennett, nor her agent, Jennings Lang.

Judge Harry Borde indicated he will have a decision ready a week from today. (See story page 7.)

Dodgers Take Thriller 3-2

Roe Bests Spahn in Pitching Duel at Boston; Indians Win

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP).—Blustery, cold weather forced the postponements of two of the seven-day major league baseball opens today, but the clear weather prevailed in Washington where President Truman tossed out the first ball prior to the official opening of the Senators-Boston Red Sox game.

A crowd of 30,000 saw President Truman make what is believed to be his last presidential pitch. Then Bob Porterfield of the Nats took over on the mound. He was opposed by Boston's Mel Parnell.

Miserable weather held the opening day crowd in Boston down to only 4,000 as the Braves inaugurated the season against the Brooklyn Dodgers. To Sam Jethroe, fleet-footed Braves' centerfielder, went the honor of hitting the first home run and scoring the first run of the season. Jethroe hit his blast against Preacher Roe in the third inning to give the Braves a temporary 1-0 lead. The Dodgers roared back with three runs against Warren Spahn in the fifth and won 3-2.

The day's largest crowd, an estimated 40,000, attended the Tigers-St. Louis Browns opener in Detroit. Ned Garver shackled the Tigers with only six hits and drove in a run with a single to pitch the Browns to a 3-0 triumph.

Favored Cleveland Indians got away to a flying start in their American League opener with the Chicago White Sox at Chicago.

Commonwealth Force Would Stay in Korea

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, April 15 (Reuters).—The Commonwealth division will remain in Korea after an armistice is signed, the commander, Maj. Gen. A. J. H. Cassels, said at divisional headquarters today.

"After a truce," he said, "we will fall back from the demarcation line between the Communist and United Nations armies, dig new defense positions and maintain active training."

Cassels also said he believes future Communist offensives will have strong air support.

"The enemy has plenty of air power he did not have before," he said. "I am certain he will use it if he attacks again."

15 Die in Giant Bomber Crash Near Spokane Base

SPOKANE, Wash., April 15 (AP).—A B-36 bomber crashed on take-off from Fairchild air force base early today, killing 15 of the 17 aboard.

The two other crew members suffered serious burns.

The giant, 10-engine bomber crashed in a farmer's field a half-mile northwest of the base, and burst into flames.

The plane fell on the farm of Ernest Alf who told a reporter: "We were awakened by this awful crash and as we got out of bed all we could see was a big fire. It made an awful explosion. It looked like it was only a block away from the house but it was a half-mile."

"I could tell from the shape it was a B-36 but it was all burning."

A few minutes after the crash Alf said the bomber "is all flat now."

The B-36, world's largest bomber and America's foremost atom bomb carrier, skidded through a fence that rings Fairchild and hit the field.

Pieces of the plane were scattered over a wide area.

The plane normally carries a crew of 15 but had two extra men on board. The flight was described as a routine training mission.

The B-36 has a range of 10,000 miles with its four jet and six piston engines.

This was the second $3,500,000 B-36 destroyed at Fairchild. One crashed and burned while landing at the base, eight miles west of Spokane, last winter. The crew escaped before it caught fire.

Alf said the flames lit up his farm house as if it were daylight at 3:45 a.m.

Mrs. Alf said air policemen were on the scene shortly after the crash "picking up papers and covering bodies."

CHEST DRIVE CANVASSERS COVER CITY

Complete Job Late Tonight

Hundreds of needy Victorians are waiting anxiously for the results that 2,000 of their neighbors will turn in tonight at the end of the Community Chest drive.

This morning, canvassers started out on their rounds of the business and residential areas of Greater Victoria. Tonight, the canvassing tempo will increase as more volunteers set out with their kits.

First results of the drive will be known late tonight when canvassers start turning in donations at the Community Chest headquarters in Spencerhouse.

Every home home in Greater Victoria will receive a call before the special spring drive for funds is complete.

Here's what Victoria's Mayor Claude L. Harrison has to say about the campaign:

"Today is the day that we unite to meet an emergency which has not yet arrived but which, if it is not met, will fall upon our community of Greater Victoria as surely as we can expect tomorrow's sunrise."

He pointed out that the 16 community services of the Chest are asking for assurance that they can carry out all their humanitarian work for the rest of 1952.

"If this is not assured, some of these services will cease utterly—all will be severely crippled," he said.

"I make a personal appeal to you to put over this drive, and supply the funds which we were short of last year."

Will Meet Seven State Governors at Omaha

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP).—President Truman today asked seven midwestern governors to meet with him at Omaha Wednesday to discuss measures for dealing with the flood emergency.

The White House announced Truman will leave Washington by plane Wednesday for a flight over the flood area. The plan is to land at Omaha for the conference with the governors.

Truman invited the governors of Illinois, South Dakota, North Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Minnesota to meet him.

Meanwhile, more than 76,000 persons were homeless today as the marauding Missouri and Mississippi rivers continued to spread their sea of misery through eight states.

The Red Cross estimated that 18,339 families have fled their homes in the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Kansas and Missouri.

What the chief of army engineers described as the "greatest flood the white man has ever seen in the Missouri river" was responsible for most of the flight of the homeless.

ALREADY HOMELESS
The Red Cross said 17,809 families are already homeless in the Missouri River valley. And when the river rolls through Omaha and Council Bluffs this figure will rise to 20,000-making the Missouri flood one of the 10 greatest in 71 years of Red Cross relief operations in the United States.

There was no help from the weather. Showers were forecast for eastern Nebraska and western Iowa tonight and Wednesday morning.

U.S. army engineers estimate that 1,250,000 acres of land are under waters of the Missouri and its tributaries.

While millions of tons of rich topsoil sloshed down river, men and machines at the twin cities of Omaha and Council Bluffs—combined population 366,000—toiled to build up the flood walls and dikes.

The flood wall, when originally built, was 26.6 feet high and considered able to meet any challenge from the Missouri. Now it is being built up in hopes of fighting off a predicted crest of 31.6 feet Thursday. The crest would be 12 1/2 feet over flood stage and seven feet above the previous recorded high of 24.6 in 1881.

The river stood at 28.7 feet here early today. But there was still hope. Maj. Gen. Lewis Pick, chief of army engineers, said he believed there was a chance of winning.

FINAL BULLETINS

Race Track for Elk Lake?
K. R. Derbyshire, president of the Canadian branch of the Horsemen's and Breeders' Association, and the B.C. Breeders' Association, will propose to the city a race track at Elk Lake. It is reported. The plan would embrace an inner track for automobile races.

B.C. Salmon Not for U.K. This Year
VANCOUVER, April 15 (CP).—Great Britain will buy no canned salmon from British Columbia this year, it was confirmed today by a spokesman for the canneries here.

In 1951 Britain bought $6,700,000 worth of B.C. salmon; but because of sterling difficulties the contract will not be renewed.

Army Issues 10th Casualty List
OTTAWA, April 15 (CP).—The army, in the 104th casualty list of the Korean war, today reported one officer killed in action and five men wounded. None was from British Columbia.

Housewife Wins Soccer Pool Again
LONDON, April 15 (Reuters).—Mrs. Lillian Guest, 50, housewife who won £75,000 last week in a soccer pool, hit the jackpot again in this week's contest. The amount of today's prize was not announced. But Mrs. Guest thinks it will be close to the £75,000 she won before. Mr. Guest attributes success to "nineteenth system and one-tenth Mrs. Guest's intuition."

CADDY LIKES OUR WARM WATERS Experts Squash Vancouver Claim Elephant Seal Famed Sea Serpent

By HUMPHRY DAVY
Efforts of jealous Vancouverites to kill Victoria's "Cadborosaurus" have failed once again.

A sea animal slain on the West Coast has been positively identified as an elephant seal—effectively quelling an announcement by a Vancouver paper that the dead animal was "Caddy."

The paper's headline said: "Caddy's Death Staggers Victoria."

A front page story quoted Dr. Neal M. Carter, head of the Pacific Fisheries Experimental Station at Vancouver as stating that sea animal "could well be none other than world-famous—Cadborosaurus."

The reports of the death of a sea animal far from "staggered" Vancouverians who are much better acquainted with the habits and appearance of their "beloved and elusive sea serpent" than Vancouverites who have never seen anything larger than a small seal.

Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum, described the one-ton, 14-foot sea animal, killed by Simon Peter, a fisherman, as nothing more than an elephant seal which are seen from time to time along the west coast of the island.

Charlie Guiguet, biologist, is now cutting up the mammal on a beach near Ucluelet and will ship the bones and skull to Victoria tonight, he said.

He said the sea elephant was completely different in appearance to Caddy.

"Besides," said Dr. Carl, "it is very unlikely that a sea elephant would wander in waters surrounding the east coast of Vancouver Island."

Dr. Carl said if Vancouverites wanted to see what the skull of an elephant seal looked like they could look at one on display at the University of British Columbia.

"They will observe that its head is vastly different from a sea serpent's," he said.

George I. Warren, head of Victoria's Tourist Bureau, also denied that the sea elephant was Caddy.

"It's not the same species at all," he said. "Caddy has a warm, sunny waters like we have around Victoria. He wouldn't be found dead at Ucluelet."

It was also pointed out that only a week ago today Caddy was seen splashing about Cadboro Bay, where he was first seen years ago. The monster was watched then by three persons, a man and two women, who just missed taking a photograph of him.

This indicates Caddy is still in local waters.
